Massive Explosion In Las Vegas Motel

At Least 6 Persons Killed;
Authorities Blame Bombing

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A massive explosion that killed at least six persons in a downtown motel early today was caused by a bomb, county officials declared.

"It has to be a bomb. There's no question," said Dist. Atty. George E. Franklin. "There's no gas in the building, but we don't know if it's suicide or what."

Officers said as many as 20 persons may also have been hurt by the blast.

The Clark County Coroner's Office said the body of the sixth victim had just been found in the rubble on the top floor of the three-story motel, the Orbit Inn.

Officers said much of the motel was demolished, that the explosion apparently occurred on the third floor. Officers continued to search the rubble.

A witness said windows throughout the motel were shattered, but that there was apparently no fire. Firemen were standing by at the scene.

The blast occurred at 1:25 a.m., officers said.

Investigators quickly surrounded the scene and pushed spectators out of range. News-men who gathered at the motel were also kept on the sidelines.

The identities of the victims were not immediately available. Deputy Coroner Harvey Schmitzer said "six occupants are unaccounted for, but we have, we think, six victims." He said the bodies of those recovered so far are extremely mangled.

Schmitzer said he found a skull in an alley across from the building, and that a woman's leg was found embedded in a brick wall.

He said authorities have asked for an FBI team to come from Washington to help with identification of the dead.

As dawn approached, bodies were being laid out on a parking lot in big black rubber bags in front of a panel truck, a county sheriff's identification unit.

Health officials closed off the entire block because sewers in the area were beginning to overflow.

100 Speakers

At Hearing on State Merger

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Nearly 100 persons spoke Friday at the Kellett committee's third hearing on proposed governmental reorganization, and most of them favored the general idea applied to an agency of personal interest.

The committee had held hearings in Eau Claire and Green Bay, and received objections to reducing the independence of conservation, veterans and other agencies. A final hearing was scheduled today in Madison.

The Kellett study group has been working on plans to consolidate 86 government departments and agencies into 13 departments and four major agencies.

Most speakers at the Milwaukee hearing praised the apparent economic benefits in merging some departments. But nearly every speaker had an existing department which he suggested be exempt from the program.

Ruby's four sisters were also at the graveside services in Westlawn Cemetery. Six policemen stood watch at the canopied gravesite.

Rabbi Graubart told the mourners at the funeral chapel that "on the surface, Ruby was an avenger. He was an avenger of the blood who pursued the manslayer while the blood was hot."

The services were only for 60 family members and friends. Another 100 persons including newsmen and television cameramen observed from a distance. Ruby was buried next to his mother in the family plot.

Family, Friends Observe Burial Of Jack Ruby

Rabbi Calls Him 'Avenger of a Martyred President'

CHICAGO (AP)—Jack Ruby, was buried Friday in a snow-swept cemetery amidst a group of family and friends.

Ruby, 35, died Tuesday of a blood clot and cancer in Dallas, Tex.

Rabbi David Graubart, conducting the funeral service, termed Ruby "the avenger of a martyred president."

Two days after President John F. Kennedy's assassination, Ruby shot and killed Lee Harvey Oswald in a Dallas police station. Oswald was named the president's killer by the Warren Commission.

Ruby, born in Chicago, was laid to rest in a Conservative Jewish ceremony climaxed by his three brothers' reading of the Kaddish, a Jewish prayer similar to the Lord's Prayer.

Meet Slight Resistance in First Big American Assault Through Region's Swamps

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—45-minute attack, but several buildings were damaged. South Vietnamese military headquarters reported the Communists also shelled a nearby Vietnamese airbase early today apparently in a diversionary attack. A spokesman said the Communists inflicted heavy casualties on a regional force platoon defending the Chu Hanh airfield near Holloway and killed four Vietnamese civilian dependents in a shelling of an Army Engineer camp nearby.

In another development, U. S. B52 heavy bombers staged four raids Friday night and today in Binh Duong Province 25 to 30 miles northwest of Saigon.

Bomber Targets

U. S. headquarters said the targets are Viet Cong troop concentrations, supply points, infiltration routes, base camps, storage areas and fortifications.

GM Recalls 269,000 Cars

Collapsible Steering Column Device Is Source of Problems

DETROIT (AP)—Collapsible steering columns, much heralded as safety devices, were in the spotlight today because of faulty installation as General Motors Corp. recalled 269,200 new cars.

The largest of the nation's four auto makers said the steering shafts in the company's smaller model 1967 cars will be replaced because they may snap.

Eight such failures have been reported so far — five in Pontiacs, two in Chevrolets and one in a Buick — all at low speeds while parking or turning, GM said.

The steering shafts are the new, impact-absorbing columns designed to collapse under extreme pressure, such as that from a collision throwing the driver against the steering wheel.

Installation Defect

The defect is in the way the shaft was installed, not in the design of it, the company said.

The faulty installation resulted in misalignment of the shaft, placing too much strain on it during certain maneuvers of the car, GM said.

The stress, although not noticeable to the driver, may cause the shaft to break, the firm said.

GM spokesmen were unavailable for comment on whether the problem might leave a car uncontrollable at high speeds.

The fault was first discovered in December and the firm began

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A teenage pedestrian was killed late Friday near Kenosha raising Wisconsin's 1967 traffic fatality toll to 12 compared with 16 on this date a year ago.

Fight Over Powell May Be Easing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Talk of compromise in the fight over the seating of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell in the 90th Congress spread today as the Harlem Democrat headed back to Washington and next week's showdown.

Powell's office said he was due back in the capital this weekend after fishing and sunning in the Bahamas for weeks and had scheduled meetings with several unnamed individuals.

House Democrats caucus at 10 a.m. Monday to organize for the new session and Powell's case is high on the agenda. The fight over seating him will take place Tuesday when Congress convenes.

The harsh probability that he might be denied his seat or tossed out as chairman of the Education and Labor Committee has eased a bit in the light of two recent developments:

Speaker John W. McCormack came back to town and made it clear he had little sympathy with the anti-Powell move, which is being led by two junior members, Reps. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., and Sam M. Gibbons, D-Fla.

The executive committee of the Democratic Study Group, which claims to have 145 of the 248 House Democrats as members, decided Friday to take an official hands-off policy on the issue.

Reduces Victims to Tears

'Zot' Gun Goes 'Squish'

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Lawbreakers will need space helmets to avoid the new liquid-bullet "zot" guns issued to St. Petersburg police today.

The weapons go "squish" instead of "bang," and they turn their victims into blubbery crybabies, easily lugged off to the jailhouse to recuperate.

The device is called a "chemical mace," and it is more bug bomb than pistol. But a direct hit leaves a person harmless and stupefied.

It eventually may replace the time-honored nightstick.

Tear Gas

The chemical, essentially concentrated tear gas, is contained in a pressurized cylinder two inches in diameter and eight inches long.

With a press of his thumb, an officer can send a stream of liquid up to 20 feet, aiming for the face. The victim erupts in blinding tears, his face burns, his nose runs and he gasps and folds up.

"You feel like crawling in a hole, and pulling the dirt over you," says Sgt. John Sheffield, weapons officer. "And you stay that way for as long as two hours."

Two Pennsylvania firms make the stuff, and authorities in Pennsylvania, Iowa, Kentucky, Florida, New York, Missouri and Minnesota have put it in service.

"It's a self-defense item," says Sheffield. "The drunk who comes at you in a bar, a hood with a knife, a demonstrator who loses control emotionally but you don't want to knock him over the head."

Howard Noyes, a St. Petersburg Times reporter, volunteered to test two drops of the chemical on his cheeks.

"I was weeping. I could no longer see Sheffield who was standing two feet away. There was a sensation in my nose which made it feel like it was wrinkling."

"I sat down on the floor simply because I didn't feel like standing anymore," Noyes wrote.

1966 Toll Set at 1,119

Shooting Death Of Boy Listed as Highway Fatality

MADISON (AP)—A blast from a deer rifle that killed a 12-year-old boy has sent Wisconsin's record highway death toll for 1966 to 1,119.

The Motor Vehicle Department said today it has recorded the Nov. 24 death of Mitchell Byrnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Byrnes of Cameron as the latest reported fatality for last year.

The department said that the boy was driving a truck on a town road in Barron County during a deer hunting excursion. There was a loaded rifle beside him. His grandfather riding in the back of the truck spotted a deer. He told the boy to turn around. The truck went out of control and into a ditch. The gun discharged, inflicting the fatal shot.

The national uniform traffic code specifies that a death resulting from a vehicle's movement on a public road is recognized as a traffic fatality.

More Teachers Threaten Strike

CHICAGO (AP)—About 600 junior college teachers have struck the Chicago junior college system, and many of the city's 23,000 elementary and high school teachers threaten to do the same Monday.

Local 1600, Cook County College Teachers Union called Friday's strike at eight junior colleges. A spokesman for the colleges estimated at least half the 335,000 junior college students stayed away from classes.

The teachers struck after the Chicago Junior College Board turned down demands for an increase of $1,650, smaller classes and a lighter course load.

In another dispute over wages, the Chicago Teachers Union, which claims to represent 13,500 of 23,000 elementary and high school teachers, prepared for a strike Monday. Such a walkout would be the first in the city's history.

Senate Files Bulge With Complaints of U.S. Bond Coercion

Senator Seeks Protection for Servicemen, Civil Employees

WASHINGTON (AP)—The complaints from civilian and military personnel throughout the world indicate that the bulging with complaints from servicemen and federal employees that they are coerced into buying savings bonds and making charitable contributions.

Letters from servicemen tell of being denied promotion and even of being threatened with shipment to Vietnam if they fail to buy bonds.

The subcommittee also has received reports of Marine sergeants being sent into the foxholes in Vietnam to sign up fighting men for bond purchases.

Bill Introduced

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., subcommittee chairman, has introduced a bill that would, among other things, protect government employees against any form of compulsion to buy bonds or contribute to charity.

In a recent letter to Thomas D. Morris, assistant secretary of defense for manpower, Ervin wrote: "It is becoming glaringly apparent that legislation is needed to protect servicemen as much — or more so — as it is to protect civilian personnel."

Morris said the Defense Department not only does not authorize coercion of civilian and military personnel to buy savings bonds or contribute to charitable campaigns but has not and will not condone such coercion.

Ervin replied "the numerous

Play on Opinion

Officials Doubt Interest In Vietnam War Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—After a week of peace probing, U.S. officials report serious doubt that North Vietnam is interested now in negotiations on ending the Vietnamese war.

The primary aim of the North Vietnam peace maneuvers is judged here to be to build up public opinion against U.S. bombing of the north and thus try to force a permanent and unconditional halt to the air attacks.

Some officials said that the effort being made through diplomatic channels as well as public statements in this respect is almost unprecedented.

Peace Prospects

Soviet and Eastern European diplomats and officials have been telling U.S. authorities for several months, it is understood, that if the United States would stop the bombing they believe the way would open for an improvement in peace prospects.

But, according to U.S. informants, these diplomats have failed to provide any assurances that some scaling down of military activity on the Communist side would result.

The basic U.S. position is that if this country is to stop the bombing, North Vietnam must also de-escalate — presumably by ceasing to send men and supplies to the Communist forces in the south.

Aroused Interest

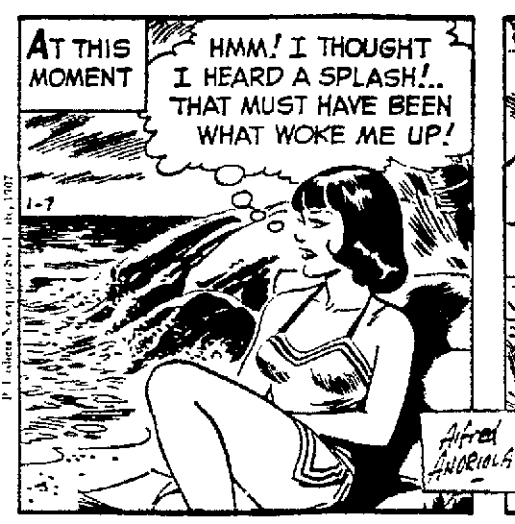

Worldwide interest in possible new peace developments was aroused earlier this week when North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong said in an interview with the New York Times that his government's terms, known as the four points, for winding up the conflict were not "conditions" for holding talks. He described them as a "basis of settlement."

Friday an English language broadcast from Hanoi said the premier had told the Times that the four-point position of North Vietnam "constitutes the basis of a settlement." This was read by authorities in Washington as a possible hardening of Hanoi's position since it could be interpreted as meaning that the four points were the only basis of a settlement which the North Vietnamese government would consider.

One Hour Delay
Weather Ignored
For Inaugural Ball

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Republican leaders snubbed the gloom of rain and snow Friday night to turn out 3,500 strong for their party's inaugural ball honoring Gov. Warren P. Knowles.

The formal start of the affair was delayed an hour, but not by weather. Gov. and Mrs. Knowles arrived an hour late in a borrowed 1933 Rolls-Royce after a hairdresser insisted on fussing over the First Lady's hairdo.

The Knowles led a grand march in which about 40 couples representing GOP officialdom participated. Most of the women guests wore floor-length gowns having taken their cue from Mrs. Knowles.

Most arrived at the Milwaukee Arena under plastic umbrellas too.

Among those present were Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Jack B. Olson.

Neenah Infant
Critical After
Auto Crash

WAUPACA — A Neenah infant is in critical condition and his mother and father both hospitalized after a head-on collision with a semi-trailer truck near here during the snow storm Friday.

One-year-old Mark Oppen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Oppen, 606 Knight Ave., Neenah, was discovered to be suffering from internal injuries after it was at first thought he had only cuts and bruises. Oppen also is thought to have internal injuries as a result of the crash on U. S. 10 near Sunset curve between Weyauwega and Fremont.

Mrs. Oppen received cuts and bruises and is listed in satisfactory condition. They are all at Waupaca Riverside Hospital.

According to county police, the Oppen car was traveling west when it collided head-on with the eastbound truck. The mishap occurred at 10:35 a.m. during a snow storm.

The truck driver escaped injury.

The Oppen car was demolished and extensive damage was caused to the front of the truck, police said.

Mrs. Oppen is the former Miss Karen Olson, Waupaca.

Conformance With Federal Standards
Road Beautification
Laws Sought in State

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The Natural Resources Committee of State Agencies will support the efforts of the State Highway Commission to enact new legislation for public highway beautification to conform to the standards of new federal laws.

The highway commission is expected, under the new federal programs, to eliminate thousands of billboards and to screen or remove hundreds of junkyards near highways, under penalty of loss of federal aids.

At its quarterly meeting here, the NRC, which represents all state agencies concerned with resource protection and management, indicated it will push in the new Legislature for a variety of other new laws, including:

More Freeway Mileage

Extension of Wisconsin freeway mileage, now limited to 300 miles, to 1,000 miles to conform with the long-range plan of the state highway administration visualizing highway traffic requirements until 1990.

Provisions for the advance acquisition of highway right-of-way for the planning and preservation of scenic corridors, and provisions for the protection of natural beauty values at highway intersections.

New plat controls for the use by the Wisconsin Conservation Department that would enable it to discourage new development within the boundaries of recreational areas designated for public use and recreation.

Delegation of powers to the Wisconsin Conservation Commission for the promulgation of a uniform boat regulation code that would apply throughout Wisconsin, to replace the varying and inconsistent local controls that have brought complaints from traveling boaters.

Pesticide Labeling

Requiring the labeling of pesticides, and the licensing of pesticide operators, for the protection of human life and fish and game resources.

Providing for some form of state encouragement of local air pollution control ordinances, modeled after proposals already advanced by the Wisconsin Department of Health.

Final drafts of the bills will be reviewed by the NRC in a month. Gov. Knowles is chairman of the organization which was formed to coordinate and make more effective the diversified natural resource programs of numerous state operating agencies.

Outbreak Tapering
Chicken Pox Hitting
Children in Appleton

An outbreak of chicken pox has hit Appleton and is likely to fan out into the Fox Cities region.

The report came today from the Appleton Health Department, which said most of the cases involve school children.

The number of reportable cases since Nov. 1 has passed the 350 mark here in the city.

Health department officials said since Monday of this week about 25 new cases were reported.

Taper Off

There are signs the outbreak may be starting to taper off, health officials said.

In November the chicken pox cases totaled 231 as compared to 108 in December.

Other communicable diseases are also starting to spurt in Appleton, officials added, noting a sudden jump in mumps and whooping cough cases.

Cancer Deaths

And, it was noted that for the first time in 1966 the number of deaths in one month attributed to cancer ran higher than heart diseases. This occurred in November when the count was 12 and 11.

However, for the November-December period, there were 28 deaths due to heart failure and 18 to cancer.

During the two months there were 354 births at Appleton's two hospitals, along with 89 deaths.

Illegitimacy continued to increase with 10 cases reported since Nov. 1.

Woman Injured

Mrs. Carl McKee, 16 Winton Court, was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital in Larry's Ambulance Friday after she fell from her garage.

She reportedly received injuries to her right hand and wrist.

Incorporation
Advantage Told
At Sherwood

Citizen's Committee Hears Attorney List Possibilities

SHERWOOD — Advantages of incorporating the Village of Sherwood were explained by Victor Miller, St. Nazianz attorney, before a citizen's committee here Tuesday night.

A public hearing was set for Feb. 9 at Harrison School, when officials from communities, recently incorporated will explain their experiences and answer questions.

Miller said he believed the community qualified by showing a projected growth pattern in view of its favorable location to the fast-growing Fox River Valley. He pointed out advantages of its tax base in relation to the town and the revenues, which would be retained once the village is incorporated.

Ideal Location

The village, on State 114 and 55, near High Cliff State Park, has a population of about 350 and is adjacent to the recreation village and golf course, being developed by Francis Schneider, route 1, Menasha.

Miller advised the possibility of incorporating Sherwood with Schneider's development should not be overlooked and suggested representatives of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, of which the Town of Harrison is a member, be asked for assistance.

Tuesday's meeting was called following efforts during the past two years by the Sherwood Businessmen's Association to obtain municipal water and sewage facilities for the community.

Almost emergency conditions exist in the village, with residents forced to buy water from other communities or use commercial laundry facilities in nearby cities. The State Board of Health has urged municipal sewage facilities.

Warning Issued

Miller warned that the facilities would not come immediately with incorporation as funds must be accumulated under the leadership of a conscientious village board. He pointed out the advantages, however, compared to forming a sanitary district, as had been proposed previously, when all tax rebates would go into the town treasury.

More than 90 per cent of the homeowners last year petitioned to have the preliminary survey made for the Farm Home Administration (FHA) in an effort to obtain federal funds for the initial survey. The request was rejected on the grounds that the community was not a poverty area and lacked a comprehensive plan.

Calumet County recently appointed a committee to engage a planner for a county plan.

If approval of incorporation is given at the public meeting, boundaries will be set and application made to the state.

Dear Fogies: Kill Rita with kindness. Give her so much hospitality that she chokes on it. If you knock the girl you will force your son to defend her. Praise her to the skies — find something to admire — and soon your son will be knocking her.

Any gal who is as aggressive as this one stands a good chance of losing her boy friend — if his parents, especially his Mom, stay out of it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our son is a sophomore in a university 400 miles away. The girl he dates before he left flies to see him every few weeks.

When he comes home for holidays and special occasions Rita (fictitious name) meets him at the airport. This is a privilege his father and I would enjoy.

Evidently the girl never has to check with her parents concerning meals or curfew. She is at our house for lunch and dinner everyday and then they go out for the evening. We get to see very little of him when he is home.

We want our children's friends to feel welcome but don't you think it is in poor taste for this girl to hang around so much? We have talked to our son about her constant presence and he defends her — saying, "She is here at my invitation."

Are we old-fashioned or as the kids say "square?" What, in your opinion, is the best way to handle this? — Fogies in Our 40's.

HINTS FROM Heloise

I'm the mother of two tiny children and have very little extra time or money.

This past Christmas it was decided that the whole clan would gather at our house for dinner. Believe me, I was in a dither over the preparations until it occurred to me to ask our baby sitter's teen-ager sister to help.

I paid her the baby-sitting rate, and in one morning she vacuumed the whole house, washed two floors, dusted, polished silver, etc.; leaving me free to straighten the clutter, set out the good dishes and get a head start on the cooking.

We probably took a few more cookie and chatter breaks than professional help but my "maid for the morning" was very anxious to please and worked like a little beaver.

I felt almost guilty afterwards for getting so much for her mother who assured me that her daughter was thrilled with the extra money and would be glad to help again.

I have just realized that by not buying a new dress for the holidays, I saved enough to get So, I offer my suggestion to other harried mothers (who know a willing teen-ager). Not only for pre-party clean-ups but when the weekly grind gets to be too much. It's the wisest investment I've ever made.

Your Problems
Ann Says Too Much Kindness
Cure-All for Imposing Guest

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The letter about the youngster who bought her mother a card of buttons at the dime store for her birthday reminded me of a bitter experience. This story has a good moral and I hope you will print it.

Several years ago my granddaughter, who was then five years old, picked a rose from the neighbor's garden. She wanted it for her mother. When the neighbor saw her he began to shout and curse. I immediately asked the man how much he thought the rose was worth. He said, "Five dollars." I gave him a $5 bill and he seemed satisfied. Then I looked up the street and saw my daughter-in-law hitting the little girl with a stick. The child had tried to give her mother the rose and they go out for the evening. We her mother was beating her. I get to see very little of him when he is home.

That night I told my son about the incident and both he and his wife suggested that I spend my money on merchandise you can surely use. You That was seven years ago and I can't afford to throw your money away on stuff of doubtful value.

The best players in the national tournament last summer applied this principle to the play of a hand in the Life Master Pair Championship. They won dummy's only trick with the ace of clubs and had to use this sole entry to dummy to best advantage.

Thoughtless players led trump, trying a finesse with the jack. This happened to lose to the queen, and these players eventually had to lead heart from the South hand, losing two more tricks.

Even the thoughtless player made four spades, but this was not enough to earn them a good score. Overtricks are important in a tournament.

Poor Finesse

Thoughtful players saw that the spade finesse would be useful chiefly if East held precisely Q-x-x of spades. On finesse would help only slightly if East held more than three trumps; and it would be unnecessary if East held only one or two trumps.

A heart lead from dummy would be useful if East had the ace of hearts no matter how the hearts broke. The hearts lead would give South only a 30 per cent chance to gain.

Whenever declarer led heart from dummy at the second trick, East took the ace of hearts and led a club for South to ruff. South could lead out the ace and king of trumps, getting an unexpected bonus when the queen happened to drop. The correct play gave South twelve tricks instead of only ten — very important difference in tournament play.

Three Die in Storm; Roads Treacherous

Weather Blamed

Attacks Take Three New London Lives

NEW LONDON — Heartwhile ice fishing at the Big Eddy attacks claimed three lives here Friday within a five-hour period. Dead are: Mrs. Arthur Collier, 60, route 3, New London. Mrs. Frank I. Davis, 78, 119 E. South Water St., New London. Francis J. (Frenchie) LeBeau, 62, 1313 Wyman St., New London. Le Beau died about 4 p.m.

More Snow Predicted, Much Colder

Highways throughout the Fox Valley area were treacherous today in the wake of a severe storm that left at least three persons dead, caused several auto accidents and resulted in about seven inches of snow.

On the heels of the storm that caused havoc Friday comes a prediction of more snow, with accumulations expected to total about two inches by midnight and much colder temperatures.

Precipitation probabilities, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau, were 90 per cent today, 40 per cent tonight and 20 per cent on Sunday.

Three deaths, directly connected with the storm, were reported in the Valley area. Charles Bender, 82, 2324 N. Division St., Appleton, died at about 3 p.m. in the kitchen of a neighbor shortly after he had finished shoveling a 132-foot long path on a sidewalk. Two New London residents also were storm victims: one of them, Mrs. Frank I. Davis, 78, 119 E. South River St., died about 1:30 p.m. after she had finished sweeping snow at her home. The other, Francis LeBeau, 62, 1313 Wyman St., died at 4 p.m., apparently after he became exhausted from chopping an ice fishing hole on the Wolf River.

Dangerous Driving

The Wisconsin Highway Patrol reported extremely dangerous driving conditions in the Fox Valley area. On U.S. 41, the patrol reported, the driving lanes have "frequent slippery spots and the passing lanes are extremely hazardous."

Another snow storm had moved into western Wisconsin this morning and was headed toward the Valley where snow began falling at mid-morning and was expected to continue until about midnight.

In the northern and northwestern portions of the state, all main highways were snow-covered and slippery. At mid-morning more snow was falling, being pushed by high winds. Generally, the State Patrol reported, only one lane of traffic was open and traffic was moving very slowly.

Roads Blocked

In the central area of the state, around Stevens Point, snow was falling and drifting and freezing rain, also coming down in areas, was adding to extremely hazardous driving conditions. The patrol reported snow was falling in Shawano and Waupaca counties. Side roads were blocked in Shawano County.

The State Patrol advised motorists to stay off Wisconsin highways unless they had to use them for emergencies.

Storm Accidents

Accidents were reported throughout the Valley, which were directly attributed to the storm. In Appleton, there were nine traffic accidents, two with injuries; in Neenah, there were four accidents, including a car train-mishap in which three people were hurt, and there were five storm-connected accidents in Menasha. Several semi-trailer trucks and cars were reported off U.S. 41 Friday during the height of the snow storm. Eleven accidents were reported on Outagamie County roads.

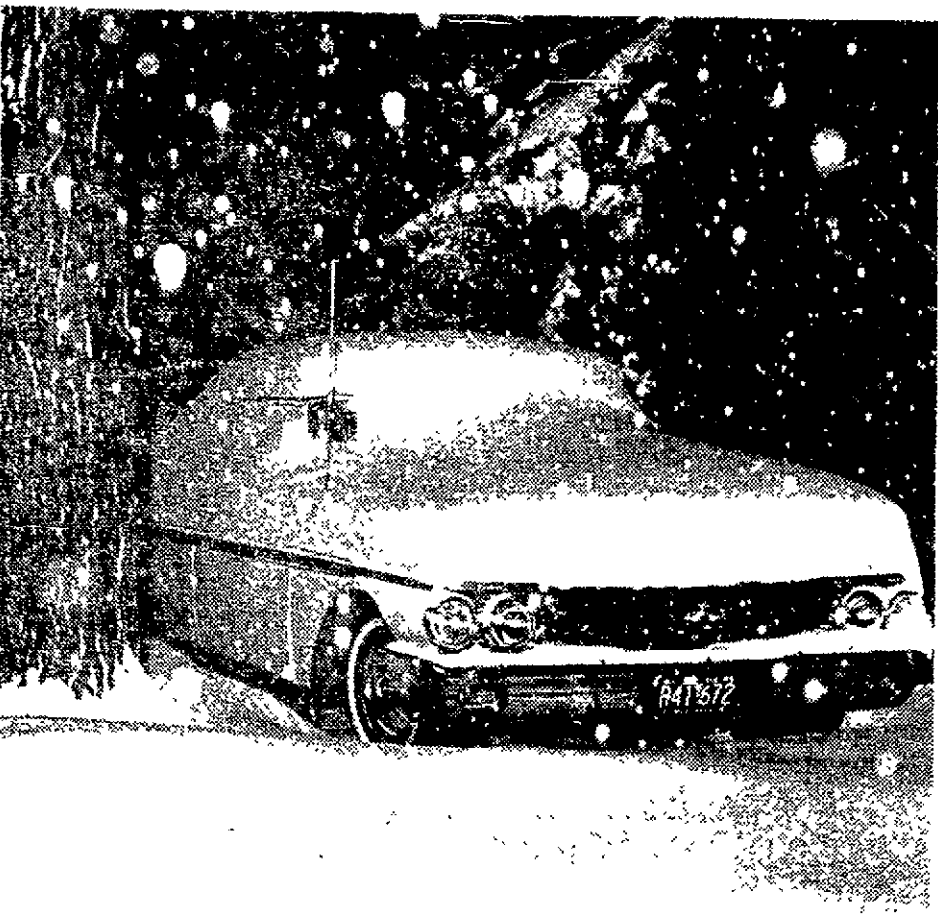

The storm left a total accumulation of 12 inches of snow on the ground in Appleton.

Bender died in the kitchen of Walter Heiss, 2325 N. Clark St., according to Outagamie County Coroner Bernard Kemps. He said Bender sat down on a chair in Heiss' kitchen and passed out. He was given oxygen by the Appleton Fire Department rescue squad. Kemps said Bender died of a heart attack.

Snow removal crews were out most of the night throughout the Fox Valley clearing roads and sanding and salting on slippery stretches of streets and highways.

The official forecast called for snow continuing, but gradually diminishing today over north and west-central portions of the state. One to three inches of additional snow was expected to fall in the Fox Valley area, accompanied by blowing and drifting. More snow flurries were expected tonight and there was a lesser chance of more snow Sunday. Variable cloudiness was predicted and temperatures were expected to become much colder tonight. On Sunday, the forecast was for variable cloudiness with "quite cold" temperatures. Low temperatures tonight were expected to be about zero.

The storm, which came down the eastern slope of the Rockies Friday, was pushed by winds of 40 and 50 miles an hour. Temperatures in many areas fell far below zero.

Storm's Aftermath

Left in the wake of Friday's storm front were winter scenery, happy children and irked motorists. The W. College Avenue overpass stands serene in the dusk, but beneath the beauty was a treacherous glaze. Happy because he could go home from Richmond School a bit earlier, and plow through deep snow on the way, is Mike Dougherty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dougherty. NEW LONDON — Highlighting the Chamber of Commerce's Farm Institute Day program on Jan. 16 will be a visit by Jo Ann Cupery, Alice in Dairyland.

The event has been reactivated after a number of years absence. Limited facilities was the major reason for dropping the program.

Completion of the new senior high school this fall gave the city a facility large enough to accommodate the more than 500 persons expected for the noon meal.

Activities begin at 10 a.m. with registration at the senior high school. At 10:15 a.m., a movie "Pure Water and Public Health" will be shown.

Miss Cupery, 22, Markesan, will participate in the proceedings throughout the day. Her first step toward becoming the 19th Alice in Dairyland was taken here last spring as she won the New London Regional contest.

Nursing Graduates She received a bachelor's degree in nursing at St. Olaf's College Northfield, Minn. Miss Cupery taught Sunday school at the Bread of Life Lutheran Church for the Deaf in 1964-65, and was a counselor and nurse at Camp Wawbeek for the Handicapped last summer. Her parents are Dr. and Mrs. Dove Cupery, Markesan.

William Morse, Appleton, executive director of the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission, will speak on "How Land Use Planning Affects the Farmer's Land" at the 10:45 a.m. session. A movie, "Lots For Sale" will follow Morse's speech.

Welcoming speeches will be given by Mayor Harry S. Emans and H. James Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, at 11:30 a.m. Others appearing at that time will be Miss Cupery, Donovan Hohmann, senior high school agriculture instructor, and committee members which organized the program.

Noon Luncheon New London businessmen will serve the noon luncheon in the high school cafeteria. Hostesses will be Alice in Dairyland and Barbara Prideaux, Weyauwega, Waupaca County Fair Queen.

Separate programs will be conducted during the afternoon for the men and women.

Professor Russell Johannes, Marshfield Farm Station manager, will speak on "Dairy Cattle Feeding" at the 1:15 p.m. men's session. Joe Walker, Waupaca County Agriculture agent, and Russell Luckow, Outagamie County Agriculture agent, will present a program, "Raising and Feeding Dairy Beef", at 2:15 p.m.

Wittenberg High Seniors Given Aptitude Tests

WITTENBERG—The General Aptitude Test Battery (GATB) was given at the high school Tuesday to 55 seniors by a team from the Wisconsin State Employment Service of Green Bay in cooperation with the high school guidance department. Guidance counselor Wilmarth Thayer was in charge.

The test indicates pupils' aptitudes for various types of jobs. It is used by publicly supported employment agencies. Once the results are on file in the employment office affiliated with the U.S. Employment Service, they can be sent to any other office in the country to help an individual get employment in the types of jobs for which he is best suited.

Later a team from the Green Bay office will interview each senior who has taken the test and interpret the results of the test to him.

This is the first time the test has been given at the high school.

Present officers and directors are Fred Born, president; Gerhard Krubsack and Silas Anton, vice presidents; G. W. Backes, Robert Simdon Jr., and Irvin Zimdars are directors. William Quinn is cashier.

Polzin was arrested by the Waupaca County police Jan. 1 after his car ran off the road and struck a pole.

Parolee Gets 3 Months for Fleeing Arrest

Was Sentenced in Minnesota on Count Of Armed Robbery

Howard F. Capener, 23, taken into custody following a chase Wednesday noon that started in The Post-Crescent newsroom where he worked, was sentenced to three months in the Outagamie County Jail Thursday after he pleaded guilty of resisting arrest.

Minnesota authorities indicated Thursday they probably will turn Capener to that state as a parole absconder after he has served the sentence here.

Capener was in County Court Branch 2 this morning under guard of three county officers. He wore a restraining belt to which his hands were cuffed.

Capener, who was paroled from the Minnesota State Reformatory at St. Cloud Nov. 3, had served two years of a 20 year sentence for armed robbery.

It was learned this morning from Minnesota authorities that Capener was arrested following a $3,000 armed robbery at a Minneapolis delicatessen about 25 months ago. Capener reportedly was armed with a loaded .45 caliber pistol when the robbery was committed.

It also was learned that he committed a similar offense in California and served a nine-month sentence on that charge in the Los Angeles County jail. Capener told the court he is single and lived at 144½ E. Second St., Kaukauna. His employment records at The Post-Crescent showed that he lived at 700 S. Memorial Drive, Appleton.

The Oregon native, who was hired as a copy reader - general assignment reporter at The Post-Crescent on Dec. 19, attempted to flee from two Outagamie County sheriff's investigators when they came to the newspaper office Wednesday noon to take him into custody for Minnesota authorities.

The pickup order from Minnesota stated that Capener was sought as a parole absconder. He reportedly left the state in which he was under supervision, without reporting to his supervisor.

Capener shoved an investigator and fled through the composing room at the Post-Crescent. He halted in the company parking lot after an investigator fired a warning shot.

It was learned that Capener worked on a newspaper in Springfield, Minn., before coming to Appleton last month. Capener, when asked by County Judge Gustave J. Keller this morning why he fled from investigators Wednesday, replied, "After you've done time in prison, it becomes a desperate situation."

Bus Carrying 45 Children Hit in Side by Auto

Vehicle Kept From Overturning Near Winneconne

OSHKOSH — A school bus carrying 45 children nearly overturned when an automobile slammed into its side about 4 p.m. Thursday near Winneconne. There apparently were no serious injuries.

The school bus was hit in the left rear as it was turning from State 16 onto County Trunk M about one mile east of Winneconne. It was saved from overturning when it fell onto the roof of a car halted at the intersection, then bounced back onto its wheels.

Jerome L. Lautenschlager, 20, Winneconne, driver of the car that collided with the bus, was taken to Mercy Hospital with scrapes on his leg and a bump on his head. County police said they have heard that about 15 of the children on the bus were to be taken to doctors by their parents. They said they wouldn't know the extent of the children's injuries until Monday.

Speed? Edith K. Hinz, 53, Winneconne, who drove the bus, told county police that she was driving east on State 116 and was making the left turn when Lautenschlager's car came over a hill on State 116 headed west.

She maintained to police the car was traveling at a "high rate of speed." Police said Lautenschlager's car hit the bus, which slid around on the ice and started to topple. Police said the bus fell on the roof of the car of Harvey O. Ristow, 38, Winneconne, which was stopped at a stop sign at the intersection on County Trunk M.

Lautenschlager said the bus had not begun its left turn when he drove over the hill. He said he could not stop his car on the icy highway after the bus began its turn.

Charges The school bus driver was charged with failure to yield the right of way and Lautenschlager was charged with driving too fast for conditions.

Damage to Lautenschlager's 1967 model car was estimated at $3,700. Police estimated damage to the bus at $3,000. Ristow's car received about $400 damage.

The petition was one of three on the agenda for the commission session. After the three separate hearings, one of which involved considerable controversy, the commissioners announced that they would adjourn until 7:30 p.m. Jan. 20 before taking formal action on all three petitions, said Stumpf. No vote was taken, the chairman, who was incorrectly identified in a Tuesday Post-Crescent story telling of the proposal, emphasized. The Tuesday story listed Julius Schmidt as commission chairman.

NEW LONDON — Salaries for city officials during 1967 were established by an ordinance adopted Tuesday by the common council.

An ordinance is passed each year establishing the salary for elected officials and the police chief, fire chief and public works director.

Ray Pelishek, public works director, will receive $7,200 in 1967, a $600 increase, and Police Chief Jack Algiers, $6,620, a $200 raise. Fire Chief Al Schafer will receive a $600 salary and $275 as fire inspector, the same as 1966.

All elected officials' salaries remained the same. Mayor Harry S. Emans will be paid $1,800 salary and $420 for committee work; Melva Rickaber, clerk, $5,000; George Groher, treasurer-assessor, $6,260 and $100 as cemetery commission treasurer; S.W. Krostue, city attorney, $2,000 and $50 per day for court appearances or other work outside of the city, and Charles G. Egl, municipal justice, $2,500.

Aldermen will be paid $480 per year and Dr. F.J. Pfeifer health officer, $600.

Regular employees are not governed by the ordinance. Elected officials can't receive an increase in their salary during an elected term.

Society committee members, Mrs. Arthur Henschel and Mrs. Irvin Borchardt will assist the congregation with the purchase of a new altar cloth. Contributions and memorial funds designated for that purpose will finance the purchase.

California Recording High Fallout Content BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Radioactive fallout in California this week has been the highest since 1962, reports State Health Director Lester Breslow.

Dr. Breslow said the fallout resulted "apparently from the Dec. 28 Chinese detonation of a nuclear device."

The higher level "does not now indicate a hazard to health," Breslow said.

Waupaca Has a New street and the name is fitting for the area through which it passes. The new street actually is a section of old U.S. 10 that remained when the new U.S. 10 beltline was built around the city. It runs through the Pennebecker Apple Orchards and therefore was named Apple Tree Lane. Signs were put up at either end of the street recently by the Waupaca County Highway Department. # Waupaca Quint Drubs Manawa, Takes Lead

WAUPACA — Building a 21-point halftime lead, the Waupaca Comets defeated Manawa, 82-37, and slipped into first place in the Central Wisconsin Conference here Friday night.

Marion, which was tied for the league lead with a 5-1 record, was not scheduled Friday. Two games, Wittenberg-

Weyauwega and Iola Scandia-Amherst, were postponed because of the weather.

Waupaca trailed, 4-0, in the opening minute, but the Comets rammed in 10 straight points to take the lead and set the pace for the rest of the game. The winners led 36-15 at half and increased the margin in the second half as both teams substituted freely.

Waupaca's Dan Peterson took scoring honors with 19 points while Jim Dushek and Dave Wendt added 13 and 12 points, respectively, to the Comet attack. Greg Rohde topped Manawa with 13.

Developers backing the proposed $5 million-plus project on land owned by Francis Schneider, route 1, Menasha, had petitioned the park commission to rezone 26 acres of the area from agricultural to commercial to clear the way for the proposed supper club-motel.

The petition was one of three on the agenda for the commission session. After the three separate hearings, one of which involved considerable controversy, the commissioners announced that they would adjourn until 7:30 p.m. Jan. 20 before taking formal action on all three petitions, said Stumpf. No vote was taken, the chairman, who was incorrectly identified in a Tuesday Post-Crescent story telling of the proposal, emphasized. The Tuesday story listed Julius Schmidt as commission chairman.

Children Hit in Side by Auto

Vehicle Kept From Overturning Near Winneconne

OSHKOSH — A school bus carrying 45 children nearly overturned when an automobile slammed into its side about 4 p.m. Thursday near Winneconne. There apparently were no serious injuries.

The school bus was hit in the left rear as it was turning from State 16 onto County Trunk M about one mile east of Winneconne. It was saved from overturning when it fell onto the roof of a car halted at the intersection, then bounced back onto its wheels.

Jerome L. Lautenschlager, 20, Winneconne, driver of the car that collided with the bus, was taken to Mercy Hospital with scrapes on his leg and a bump on his head. County police said they have heard that about 15 of the children on the bus were to be taken to doctors by their parents. They said they wouldn't know the extent of the children's injuries until Monday.

Speed? Edith K. Hinz, 53, Winneconne, who drove the bus, told county police that she was driving east on State 116 and was making the left turn when Lautenschlager's car came over a hill on State 116 headed west.

She maintained to police the car was traveling at a "high rate of speed." Police said Lautenschlager's car hit the bus, which slid around on the ice and started to topple. Police said the bus fell on the roof of the car of Harvey O. Ristow, 38, Winneconne, which was stopped at a stop sign at the intersection on County Trunk M.

Lautenschlager said the bus had not begun its left turn when he drove over the hill. He said he could not stop his car on the icy highway after the bus began its turn.

Charges The school bus driver was charged with failure to yield the right of way and Lautenschlager was charged with driving too fast for conditions.

Damage to Lautenschlager's 1967 model car was estimated at $3,700. Police estimated damage to the bus at $3,000. Ristow's car received about $400 damage.

The petition was one of three on the agenda for the commission session. After the three separate hearings, one of which involved considerable controversy, the commissioners announced that they would adjourn until 7:30 p.m. Jan. 20 before taking formal action on all three petitions, said Stumpf. # THE POWER OF FAITH

By WOODIE ISHMAEL

"... In as much as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

St. Matthew 25:40

Air Force Lt. Col. David B. O'Hara has a deep Christian concern for all people. Like other soldiers in Viet Nam, his heart went out to the children. One in particular caught his eye, a cheerful little urchin who was always out in front of the Saigon villa which he shared with 14 other officers.

The boy would get him taxis and Dave would give him a few piasters. Each day, despite the language barrier, Dave would learn more about the boy. His name was Nguyen Dinh Huu but he told Dave, "call me Tiger." His father had been killed early in the war. His mother had abandoned him, and 13-year-old "Tiger" had lived on the streets of Saigon for three years.

Dave had a 13 year old son of his own back in the states. With the consent of the other officers, "Tiger" moved into the villa. He was scrubbed, cured of the bacteria infection on his body, given clothes and chores. Then Protestant O'Hara put his little Vietnamese Buddhist friend in a French Catholic school.

Thanks to Dave's faith and the generosity of fellow officers and their families, "Tiger's" education and future is as secure as it can be in that war torn country. Dave said of "Tiger," "He did me a lot of good. The time spent with that kid was great therapy."

What Price Prestige?

When Premier Ky joined other Asian leaders for the Manila conference last fall he was reportedly miffed. He was the only one to arrive in the Philippines in a common, run of the mill prop plane instead of a jet. At any rate, the government of South Vietnam is exerting some less than subtle pressure to rectify such a humiliating state of affairs just in case Premier Ky does visit Australia as currently planned.

Pan American is the only United States commercial airline which has — or had — landing rights at the Tan Sonhut Airport in Saigon. Suddenly early this week airport officials denied the right to land for Pan Am's Flight 841 inbound from Manila. There was a hasty conversation with United States Embassy officials in Saigon and finally the landing permission was given but at first the 133 inbound passengers were not allowed off the plane. Some two hours later this order was also rescinded but passengers intending to board for a continuance of the flight to Singapore and Jakarta never were permitted past the gate.

No Privacy for Public Officials

What do the responsibilities of an elected official to his constituents include? This question is one which probably runs through the minds of most persons elected to public office. But it is a question that should be raised also when considering if an elected official is fulfilling his proper duties.

The traditional concept of a public official includes a willingness to listen to the citizens who have elected him, to hear their complaints as well as suggestions. This is part of the responsibility which an elected official assumes when he enters office. Therefore it is difficult to understand how such an official can justify having an unlisted private telephone number. Yet this is the case with a village president in the area.

The current telephone directory lists a

Paternalism Isn't Freedom

Milovan Djilas, one-time vice president of Tito's Yugoslavia, was once more released from prison last week. But he said "see you soon" to the prison manager and he well may if his past is any indication.

Djilas fought with Tito against both the Germans and those who opposed communism among his countrymen and became minister of education and propaganda when the Communists took over. He also stood with Tito against Stalin. But early in the 1950s he traveled in Western Europe and the United States and decided that democracy had to come to Yugoslavia. For such heresy he was convicted of conspiracy but given a suspended sentence.

After the Hungarian rebellion was crushed by the Russians, Djilas was vehemently critical in print and sent to prison. While there he wrote further against the regime and the manuscript was smuggled out of prison and published in New York. Despite a further sentence he

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Jan. 5, 1866.
J. H. Barnes & Co. have recently completed and put into operation in the Town of Freedom, Outagamie County, an extensive Saw Mill, one of the best in this part of the State.
It is capable of manufacturing 25,000 feet of lumber in 10 hours.
Almost the entire machinery is new, and the establishment promises to be a success.
Within a month, a new Shingle Mill, propelled by the same machinery, will be in active operation. Capacity (will be) 25,000 (shingles) per day.
A portion of the mill and power has been rented to Bates and Kulp, two of our industrious young mechanics, who already have a dry house up and will have a broom handle factory in operation very soon.
The mill-wright and carpenter work will be done entirely under the supervision of Mr. D. P. Church, of Freedom, an excellent mechanic. The machinery was put in by Mr. Williams of Appleton, who built the Whorton Mills in the Third Ward.
A store already has been started in that vicinity and the inhabitants expect a Post Office at once.

There Is a Santa Claus; Waupaca Family Testifies

Editor, Post-Crescent:
There really is a Santa Claus, as we found out on Christmas Eve.
We were on our way home from Neenah traveling on U.S. 10 after spending Christmas Eve with parents when our car broke down about one mile north of Weyauwega. We tried to flag a car down after sitting in the cold for some time with three small children, but he must have had something more important to tend to because he did not stop.
Finally we saw lights coming up behind us so we flashed our lights. When he stopped we realized that it was a semi-truck from REA Express Co.

but apparently South Vietnam doesn't intend to have American jets landing in Saigon unless Air Vietnam, the government controlled airline, also has jets. Currently it has just one, a French Caravelle which is somewhat aging and not up to the passenger capacity of the Boeing 707s which Pan Am uses in the area. Other Air Vietnam planes, six of them overhauled at United States expense of $615,000 last spring, are prop planes. The South Vietnamese do not intend to buy any jets. They want the United States to give them two — preferably a Boeing 707 Intercontinental and a smaller type like a 727 or a Douglas DC-9. Estimated cost is $10 million. The harassment of Pan Am apparently was in an effort to make it clear to what the Vietnamese may consider somewhat obtuse American officials who do not always understand the Oriental scheme of things.

In all fairness, however, it should be pointed out that the South Vietnamese have in no way interfered with or complained about American charter jet flights into Saigon and other Vietnamese landing fields with their planeloads of American troops and equipment.

number for his residence which is disconnected. Calls to the village hall, village clerk, place of employment and telephone information service reveal that the number can be obtained only from the official himself. How does a constituent contact his representative in such an instance?

We do not question the right of an individual for privacy. Yet it seems evident that a public official, by virtue of his seeking the position he holds, must give up some of his privacy on behalf of the public good. We believe a community has a right to be able to contact its elected officials.

The line of communication between the public and its officials must be kept open — in both directions. Otherwise a basic premise of our governmental system is violated.

was paroled in 1961 when he promised to write no more. But he couldn't live up to the pledge and went back to prison again.

The amnesty is an indication of what has become apparent in Yugoslavia in the last decade. Criticism of the Communist system and especially of the Russian efforts to control the various satellites is no longer considered extremely dangerous. This agrees with a survey of freedom of the press by the Freedom of Information Center of the University of Missouri which actually found Yugoslavia to rate higher than such non-Communist nations as Spain and Portugal.

Nevertheless the philosophy behind Djilas' imprisonment and release is completely different from that in most of Western Europe and the United States. He was imprisoned because he questioned and criticized the system. He was released only through the good graces of Marshal Tito. This is paternalism, not freedom.

BY EDWIN Q. WHITE
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — There was a t're in Saigon when people complained about the exhaust fumes and popping noise of the city's motor-driven cycles.
Not any more. Now the irritant of the mechanized little passenger buggies, like many other things, has been swallowed up in the bursting-at-the-seams commotion and confusion of this wartime capital.
The population of Saigon has climbed to an estimated 2.5 or 3 million persons. Nobody knows for sure how many there are in the sprawling slums, or in the winding alleyways of the Chinese section of Cholon, or in the maze of shacks and shanties along the city's rivers and canals. Many persons have come to the capital as war refugees, fleeing battle areas where both sides take a civilian toll. Many others have flocked to the city seeking to make a quick buck from the wartime boom, or off the free-spending American troops based here.
HUNDREDS OF HOMELESS
At night, in the heart of the downtown area and the central marketplace, hundreds of homeless sleep on sidewalks and in doorways.
The physical face of the city has changed, too. Hundreds of new buildings have gone up, many of them slap-dash jobs aimed at providing meager living accommodations at exorbitant prices. Floor after floor often is added to existing structures to provide more rooms when there is no direction to go except up. Still, there is a housing shortage.

Proliferation of Buildings to House State Agencies' Offices Amazing

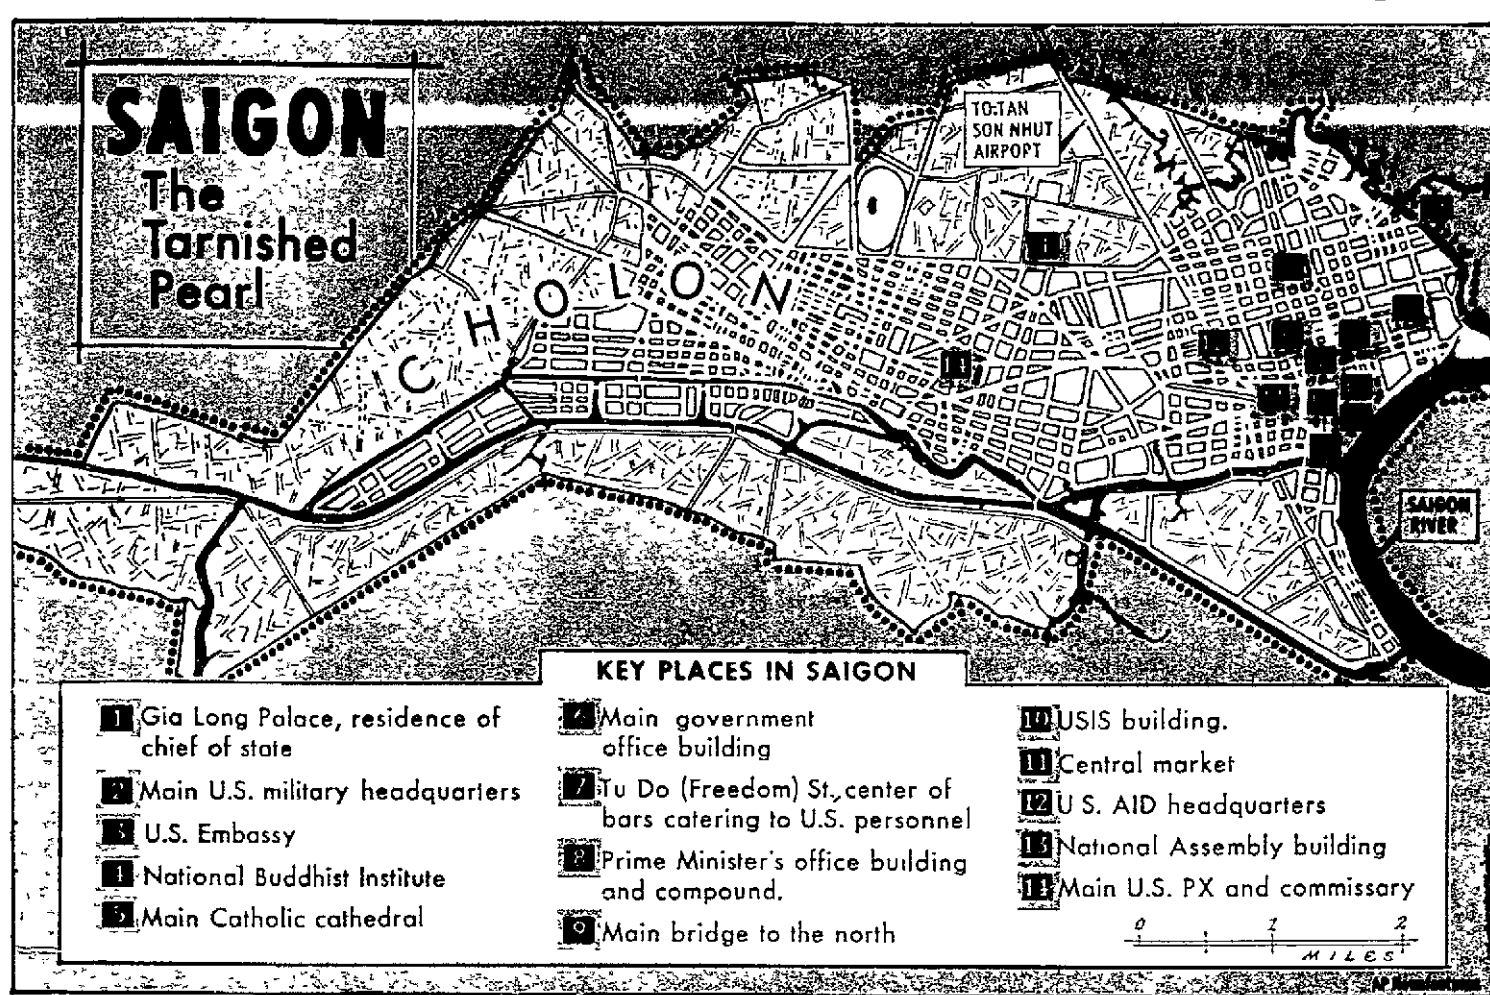

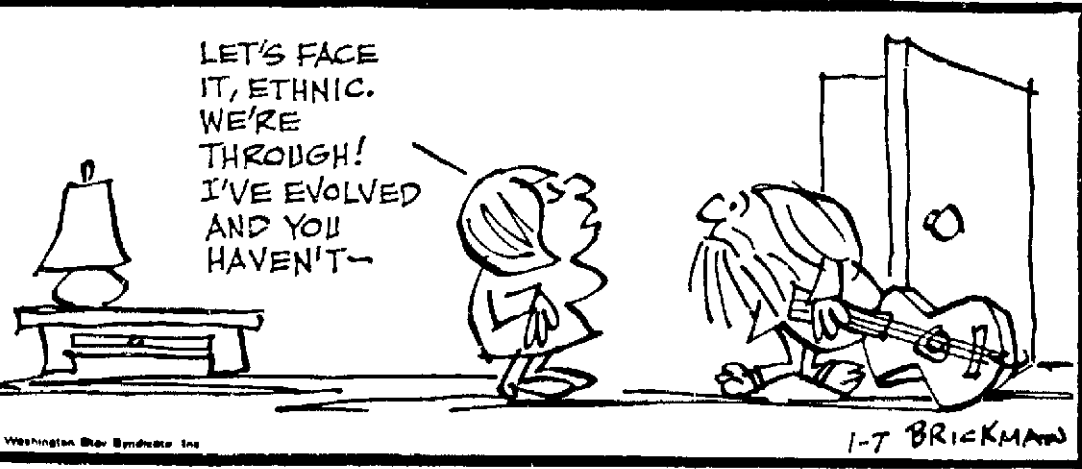

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — If the irresistible growth of state government is not especially noted by the citizen because of the painless tax expedients evolved lately, he is likely to rub his eyes when he comes to Madison and observes the government establishment occupying office space like a relentless flood.
Office building floor space owned and operated by the state government is today probably three times as great as was thought necessary as recently as a quarter of a century ago. Yet state services and their personnel requirements have grown so rapidly that the treasury is now paying nearly a million and a half dollars a year to landlords in Madison for private quarters. The State Department of Administration has said that it proposes to build another high rise state office building at a cost of around five millions, and that a few years later, it looks for enough space pressure to justify yet another of the same size. More than ever before, the Madison skyline represents public buildings quartering public servants. There is no reason to suppose that the trend will be changed. Out in the state, moreover, there is a steady program of construction of state offices of one kind and another, and district office buildings or sub-capitals to serve the enlarging army of state servants in the field services.

The influx of the Americans — some 30,000 military personnel in the capital area — has worked its usual changes. The onetime charm of an overlay of French culture on an oriental city is all but gone. The onetime pleasant boulevards — Rue Catinat, Nguyen Hue, Le Loi — now are lined with gaudy bars and gimcrack souvenir shops.
Middle-class Vietnamese families no longer take an evening promenade to enjoy the breeze from the Saigon River. Traffic conditions that were considered impossible one year or two years ago now have become indescribable. In addition to the tens of thousands of bicycles, motorscooters, motorcycles and cars of the Vietnamese, streets of the capital have become major routes for military convoys.

DRIVING REAL FEAT

Its 24 members are deaf.

But, instead of standing directly in front of his squad, he places himself exactly 3½ steps to the left so all personnel can see his signals.

Over 2 Million See Czechoslovakia

Never Thought It Would Go That Far

RUSSELLVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A woman approached a clerk in the Post Office and asked for 50 cents worth of stamps.
"What denomination?" he asked.
"I sure never thought religion would go this far," she replied, "but I'm a Baptist."

Driving is a feat that makes the traffic of New York or Tokyo look like child's play.
There is a midnight to 4 a.m. curfew in the capital, and many of the convoys are assigned to use these hours when vehicles can move with greater freedom. All night, night after night, there is the roar of engines.
Also almost gone is the onetime quiet of the traditional siesta. Only a few years ago everything stopped from noon until 2:30 or 3 p.m. Now some shopowners still pull down their steel shutters at midday, but the never-ending surge of traffic goes on and the vendors man their posts on the lookout for the wandering American GI.
The advertising brochures still use the old cliches for Saigon, terming the city the "Pearl of the Orient" or the "Paris of the East." But like the invitation to go big game hunting in the mountains of Vietnam, the ad makers are sadly out of date. The Saigon that perhaps never was, certainly is no more.

Constant Tax Raises May Bring on Revolt

Editor, Post-Crescent:
Well, it's that time of the year again — state and federal governments are talking of raising tax rates and most local governments have already done so. Also Social Security taxes have just taken another jump. This is getting to be quite a regular affair.
Granted there is some justification for a federal income tax increase at this time — inflation and a large budget deficit. However, the progressive nature of the income tax makes for an automatic, built in increase year after year. As personal income goes up through inflation and general increased productivity, tax rates automatically go up as we move into higher income brackets. Therefore, with no new tax laws we have to pay a higher percentage of our income for federal income taxes.
There can also be a little justification for higher local property taxes. Since property taxes are based on a fixed value there is no way for the local government to counter inflation except by increasing tax slightly from year to year, but 10-30 per cent is too much!
There is no excuse for an increased state income tax at all. This is especially true since we have a governor who ran for office two years ago on a platform of economy in government and no tax increases. Yet, recently it was reported in The Post-Crescent that unless he trims 150 million

City Firemen Praised By Victims of Blaze

Editor, Post-Crescent:
Most people take the members of the Fire Department and the Police Department for granted.
It takes an emergency to really appreciate them.
On Thursday, December 29th, a fire occurred in the attic of our residence at 322 North Oneida Street. The alarm was telephoned to the fire station and the response was immediate. The firemen went about their duties as they were directed, some of the men placed the furniture of each room in the center and covered same with tarpaulin for protection and then proceeded to other things. In an hour the fire was subdued, the tarpaulin removed and furniture placed in the space occupied before. The carpets were vacuumed, the linoleum in the hall mopped clean. It was all done in a quiet, orderly and efficient manner and we are almost inclined to hang a sign on the door, "Welcome, come back some day," but who wants another fire?
We are very appreciative for the manner in which the services were conducted and the loss confined to a matter of a few thousand dollars. It could have been worse.

Much Retardation Due To Heredity Influence

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: We have a healthy two-year-old daughter and want another child very much. The problem is that I have four sisters.
Each has had two healthy

children but each also has had an abnormal child (one microcephalic, one mongoloid and two retarded). I have a brother with two healthy children.
Would it be safe for us to have another child? How much of this could be due to heredity?

— E.M.
As I wrote to another reader sometime ago, not all retardation is hereditary, but the greater proportion of it is.
Sometimes a child, born normal, becomes retarded later because of illness or injury, but these are in the minority.
When a child is born retarded without illness or accident to account for it, one must begin to take heed. When a parent or brother or sister has such a child, the risk of having an abnormal child becomes very much greater because the hereditary factor must be respected.
It is also possible for a retarded child to be born into a family in which no indication of retardation can be discovered. Rarely is there any absolute way to predict that a child will or will not be retarded.
We can say only that the risk of it happening is vastly multiplied when retardation appears in the branches of the family tree.
Rather than try to tell you, E.M., that you should or shouldn't take this risk, I'd prefer that you seek the advice of people skilled in genetic counseling. Such service is available in university or other major medical centers. They are better qualified to estimate the probabilities.
If they advised not having more children, but you did and the next youngster was normal, it would not prove the counselors to be wrong. It would rather be a case of "beating the odds."
A further thought is this: Even assuming other children to be normal, that would not eliminate the risk of the trait still being passed on to future generations.
I cannot encourage you, but I respect your courage in being willing to face the situation.
Dear Dr. Molner: Can diet pills be harmful if you take them only as prescribed by the doctor? I have taken one every morning for two years. If I miss a day I eat constantly. I just don't seem to have any will power. — Mrs. L.D.R.
The reason for insisting that such pills be taken only under medical supervision is, first, to prescribe a reasonable dosage, and second to watch for signs, if and when they appear, that indicate that it is time to stop using the drug. Thus any real harm can be averted.
An inherent weakness of using drugs to reduce is that sooner or later you have to stop them. It is important that you begin developing some will power, and some new eating habits, so you will be able to control your weight when you stop using the drugs.
Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any visible change in the veins due to high blood pressure?
Does this condition reduce life expectancy?
Is there a possibility of the tycoons, Lawford and Pidgeon, who want to take over the world.

4-5:30 (Channels 11-6-9) — Wide World of Sports is occupied with the Hula Bowl Game, another football classic which spotlights college football stars from the North and South. Keith Jackson and Bud Wilkinson describe the action in Honolulu (Tape of last night's game).

6:30-7 (Channels 11-6) — The Dating Game, which moves to a new time and day to help fill the gap left by the departed Shane, has Jill St. John titillating a trio of bachelors. If one of them answers her questions neatly he wins the actress for a date. Host, Jim Lange, directs the traffic.

6:30-7 (Channels 4-5) — Flipper begins a two-parter and it's one younger viewers should especially enjoy. Our jaunty dolphin hero begins the new year up to his old tricks: saving the weary and helpless. This time he aids a fugitive (John Kerr), towing his wrecked skiff ashore. But if you think such heroic action will change the man, you're wrong.

6:30-7:30 (Channels 2-7-12) — "The Honeymooners" once again take over The Jackie Gleason Show for a nimbly musical comedy. There are lots of laughs in this one as Kramden (Gleason) and Norton (Art Carney) decide to show their wives who is the boss and end up doing their own dishes as their spouses take wing. Musical selections include a spiffy bowling number for openers and a sassy satire, "King of the Castle," with the boys bragging how they'll rule the roost. Also listenable, and amusing, is Kramden's lament, "Alice, Come Home."

7-7:30 (Channels 11-6) — The Newlywed Game moves up from daytime as another substitute for Shane. Host Bob Eubanks welcomes young newly-married couples and quizzes them on how much they know about their partners. He hopes to provoke enough arguments to keep them on the safe side of Reno.

7:30-8 (Channels 4-5) — "It Takes One to Know One" brings back Dick Gautier as Hymie the robot on Get Smart. Chief villain of the evening is Gayle Hunnicutt, a KAOS beauty, and the thought here is that the robot will be immune to her evil charm and wit. But you can guess what happens. Hymie's motors go berserk when he sees the girl and he flips his tinplated lid.

7:30-8 (Channels 2-7-12) — Judy Canova, once radio's most improbable talent, shows up on Pistols 'n' Petticoats playing a mean, pistol packin' mama. The comedy in this generally wacky series appears even cornier as Judy's buck teeth chews up the scenery as she takes a fancy to grandpa.

8-9 (Channels 2-12) 10:00-11 (Channel 7) — Mission: Impossible frets and worries (and for good reason) over a quartet of youths, sons of Hitler's most trusted officers. The lads, with shaggy modern instincts, want to capitalize on their pops' past. They have a unique scheme to recover Hitler's personal fortune, and oh mein gosh! start another reich.

8-10 (Channels 4-5) — World Premiere: How I Spent My Summer Vacation is the third in a series of films made especially for television. Like its predecessors, it's a slick and sick melodrama, with an all star cast: Robert Wagner, Peter Lawford, Lola Albright, Walter Pidgeon, Jill St. John and Michael Ansara. Focus is on Wagner, a college grad who has overstayed his vacation in Paris. In the script reminiscent of The Man From U.N.C.L.E., the aging lad is marked for death by a pair of gentlemen

Eight Peppy Frenchmen with both musical background and a Gallic flair for comedy will present the next Variety Theater program for the Appleton Gallery of Arts series. Known as Les Chanteurs de Paris, the group will give its fast-paced program at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 14, at Appleton High School Auditorium.

Varel and Bailly Troupe Scheduled for Jan. 14 Performance on AHS Stage

What promises to be the young men bound onstage in "sleeper" of Appleton Gallery of Arts' current Variety Theater season comes to Appleton Saturday night, Jan. 14.

Known as the Singers of Paris (Chanteurs de Paris), the eight-member Varel and Bailly Company will present its Festival of Musical Merriment at 8:15 p.m. on the Appleton High School stage.

Not widely known in the United States, this group of entertainers has taken its audiences by storm everywhere it has appeared. Unlike other young singing groups, these

More important, they appear onstage with a knowledge of music behind them and a polish to their performances. They have been acclaimed for their mastery of comedy, their Gallic wit, their songs both droll and "moody." Above all, these men pay attention to their pitch and diction with a desire to give an excellent performance.

Their programs are versatile, containing many original songs written by the songwriting team which heads the group and gives its name, Varel and Bailly. The pair also has composed songs for such performers as Edith Piaf and Lena Horne.

Single tickets for the performance are available at Newman's Store in Appleton.

'The Robe' Bought for Easter TV Program
In view of its extraordinary success in audience response for "Bridge on the River Kwai" broadcast last fall, the ABC-TV network now has acquired rights for "The Robe." Plans are to show the 1952 film on Easter Sunday of 1967 and also on Easter of next year.

The deal is reputed to have cost ABC $2 million. The 2½-hour feature is to be shown uncut with only one interruption for a commercial by its automobile sponsor.

The delta operation, called Deckhouse Five, was launched from a U. S. Navy task force of 12 warships and was preceded by air strikes and naval gunfire. U. S. headquarters reported no allied casualties at the end of the first day and one enemy killed.

In the air war over North Vietnam, U. S. pilots flew 77 strike missions Friday and lost two planes.

Crusader Shot Down

One was a Navy F4 Crusader shot down by Communist ground fire. The pilot was missing. The other was an Air Force reconnaissance RF4C Phantom jet shot down by ground fire 100 miles northwest of Hanoi and previously listed as lost by "causes unknown." The two-man crew was rescued.

This brought to 455 the number of U. S. planes lost over North Vietnam. In giving this revised figure, the U. S. command also said helicopter losses over the north remained unchanged at four.

U. S. headquarters, in a periodic report on American plane losses, said 147 planes and 251 helicopters had gone down in combat over South Vietnam.

In air action over South Vietnam Friday U. S. pilots flew 429 sorties and claimed destroying or damaging 343 enemy huts, structures, fortified positions and sampans. South Vietnamese pilots flew 95 strike sorties.

Report Gives Romney Lead

Ripon Society Says Michigan Governor Has Slight Margin

By WALTER R. MEAR

WASHINGTON (AP) — An organization of youthful, liberal Republicans reports Michigan Gov. George Romney is "in the lead, albeit shakily" for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination — but adds that his support seems to be cooling.

Those comments were published in the January newsletter of the Ripon Society, a Cambridge, Mass., organization devoted to the causes of liberal Republicanism.

They were based on the meeting of the Republican Governors Association in Colorado Springs, Colo., a month ago.

"Romney left both his admirers and those who came to be impressed wondering," the newsletter reported.

Then, as now, Romney — the favorite of many liberal and moderate Republicans for the 1968 nomination — said he was in the process of exploring the possibility of a bid for the White House.

"Some of Romney's backers, notably Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, were concerned with the crawling start of the Romney campaign," the Ripon Society publication said. "Once again, the press corps found Romney unprepared and wanting in substance."

"While some were worried by Romney's continued problems with the press, the professionals were more concerned with the governor's organizational efforts and some subtle changes in political climate," the society added.

Job-Finding Begins After American Motors Layoffs

KENOSHA (AP) — The State Industrial Commission sent job-finding facilities to Kenosha Friday to help offset the effects of layoffs of American Motor Corp. employees.

About 1,400 employees' jobs were suspended Friday as American Motors began cut-backs in production, a trend currently common throughout the automotive industry.

The company says it hopes to have 12,000 affected workers back to their jobs by Jan. 23 after a two-week shut down. Production will decrease to 1,100 cars a day compared to a more normal 1,600-car pace.

A short Drive Into the "Near-North"

Griese Paces North Team to 28-27 Win In Hula Bowl Game

Tosses 2 Scoring Passes to Dave Williams Within 1 Minute

HONOLULU (AP) — Two touchdown bombs from Bob Griese of Purdue to Dave Williams of Washington in less than a minute of the fourth quarter provided the margin in a 28-27 victory for the North over the South Friday night in the annual Hula Bowl game.

With his team trailing 21-16, Griese hit Williams for a 43-yard touchdown. Fifty-five seconds later, the same combination clicked for a 40-yard touchdown.

Williams was named outstanding lineman of the game.

Elusive Charlie Brown of Missouri who ran for 111 yards, making two touchdowns for the South, was named the outstanding back, even in a losing cause.

Fifty of the country's outstanding college players were on hand for the game, played before a capacity 23,500 crowd and at least a dozen professional coaches and scouts.

Get Into Spirit

The first half was lackadaisical, but the two teams got into the spirit of the thing in the second half and hit for keeps.

The game was televised by ABC for showing later on the mainland.

Brown provided a running game for the South, but the North team had little ground gained except for a 79-yard burst around left end by Clint Jones of Michigan State for the first touchdown of the game.

Otherwise it was all Griese's passing. He hit for 14 of 21 and 279 yards, and also kicked a field goal.

However, Griese missed two field goals and a pair of extra points, and had one conversion blocked.

Steve Spurrier of Florida did most of the pitching for the South, hitting 17 of 32 for 281 yards. He passed to Ben Hart of Oklahoma for a 53-yard touchdown in the first half and combined with Hart for a 58-yard gain that set up the final touchdown.

The North jumped off to a 16-0 lead on Jones' run, a touchdown pass from Griese to Jim Finley of Purdue that covered 37 yards, and Griese's 31-yard field goal with a little over seven minutes left in the first half.

Passes from Spurrier to Rod Sherman of Southern California and Hart moved the one-yard line for the South, and Mel Farr of UCLA took it over. A two-point try failed.

Comes Right Back

However, under Hula Bowl rule by which the trailing team receives the kickoff, the South came right back on passes to Sherman and Hart for another TD, and this time the two-pointer worked, leaving the North in front 16-14 at halftime.

The first quarter was scoreless.

Within two minutes of the fourth quarter, the South, with Brown carrying the ball for three key first downs, cracked over to take the lead.

The North took the next kickoff and scored in three plays, the third one a Griese to Williams pass that was completed over defender John Richards of Texas Christian.

Phil Clark of Northwestern intercepted a Spurrier pass two plays later, although the South insisted he had only trapped the ball, and Griese promptly hit Williams in the end zone again. Williams took the ball right out of the hands of Bob Bryant of South Carolina.

That made it 28-21, with 10 minutes to play. Griese missed a field goal from the 17, and the South took over with about six minutes to play on its own 20.

Spurrier made it back to his 10 and threw the ball 60 yards in the air to Hart who took it down to the North 22. Brown scored the touchdown from the eight on a great power run off his left side.

The South refused to try for a tie. Dave Lewis of Stanford passed on the two-point attempt, but it was knocked down in the end zone.

George Webster of Michigan State, who played a strong first half for the North, sat out the second half with a bruised hip.

Henry Jordan Heaps Praise On Kansas City

'They Scare Me to Death,' Exclaims Packer Tackle

GREEN BAY (AP) — "They are a tough team," Henry Jordan said Friday of the Kansas City Chiefs. "I've already started worrying."

In fact, the Green Bay Packer defensive tackle exclaimed, "they scare me to death."

Jordan is skilled with the facetious quip, and it is sometimes difficult to determine whether he is truly concerned about Chief strength in the Jan. 15 Super Bowl test.

"That Mike Garrett is a cross between Dick Bass and Gale Sayers, and Curtis McClinton is a cross between Jim Brown and Bill Brown, and Len Dawson runs like Tarkenton and throws with the accuracy of a Bart Starr, and Fred Arbanas is like Mike Ditka and that's just the offense," he said.

"Why, their line weighs over 265 pounds on the average and their average height is about 6-foot-5" he added.

Fine Personnel

"They do look good," he said in a more serious attitude. "They are very well coached and have fine personnel. Garrett blocks well, runs well and fakes exceptionally well."

Jordan said he expects to face Kansas City guard Ed Budde who he said he believes "was the one I played against in the College All-Star game when they beat us."

"I remember telling Dave Hanner (a former Packer tackle and now a coach) that I was certainly glad he was going to the American Football League," Jordan continued. "Now I'm going to play against him."

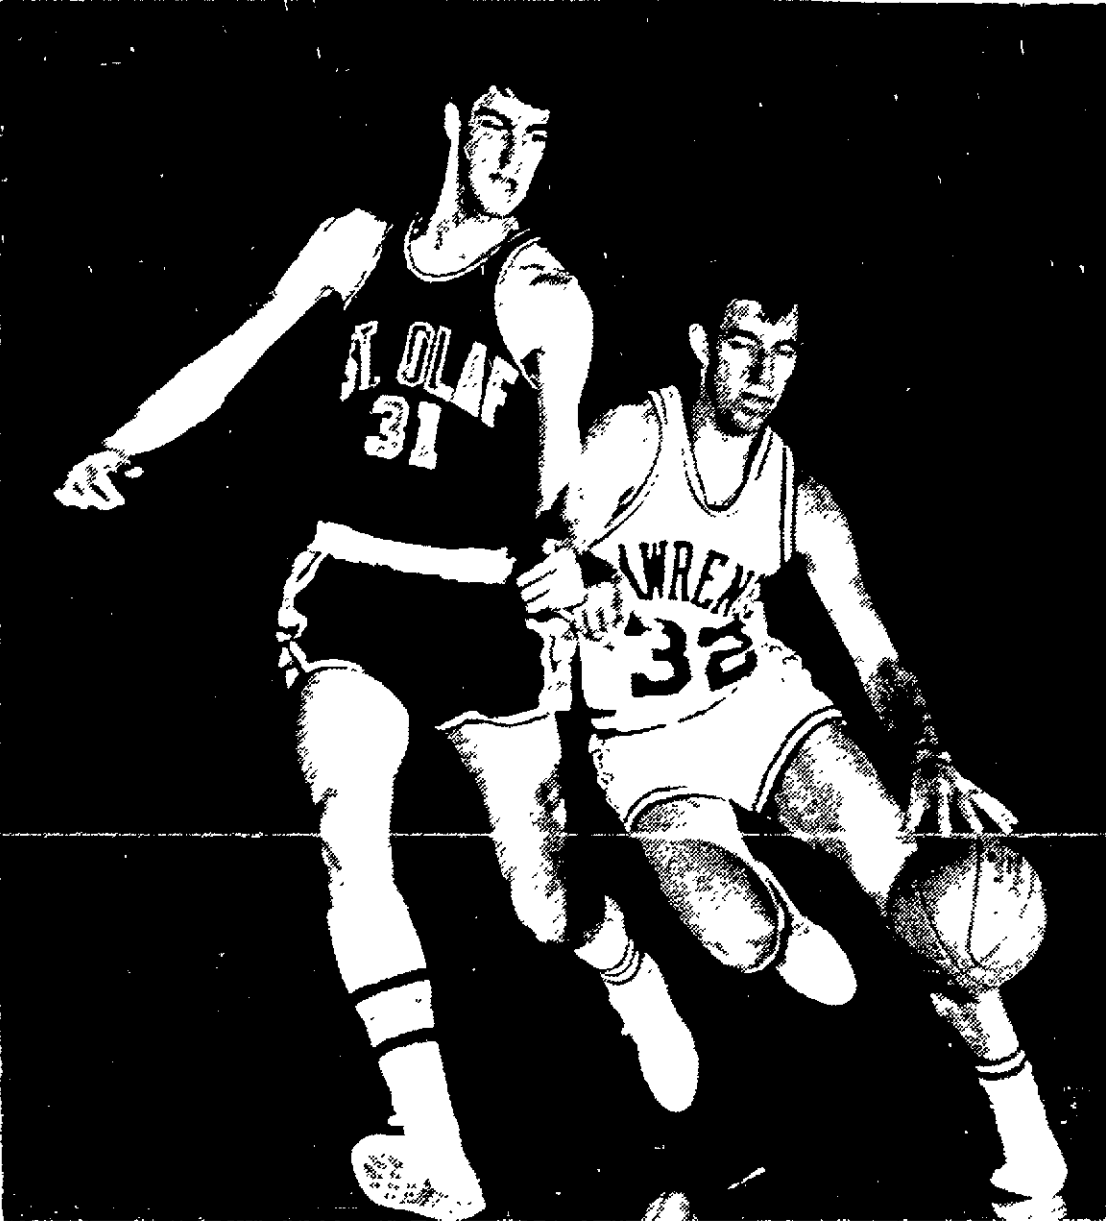

Tom Brown, a defensive back, also said he is impressed by the AFL champions.

"They run similar patterns to those in our league," Brown said. "They have a good quarterback and good receivers, and two good runners in Garrett and McClinton."

"They run their patterns just as well as they do in the National Football League, and they scored over 400 points this season which is great in any league," Brown said.

Charlie Grover, a 6-foot-3 forward with more moves than the Boston-Milwaukee-Atlanta Braves, doubled his 1965-66 scoring average of 15 points here Friday night to give St. Olaf College its margin of victory over Lawrence University in the 1966-67 Midwest Conference opener.

Giving the Viking zone defense nothing but grief, Grover scored 30 points in leading the Oles to an 81-66 victory.

With 1 minute, 40 seconds left of a close first half, St. Olaf took a never-to-be relinquished lead (33-32). Lawrence stayed within striking range for awhile longer, but the visitors from Minnesota outclassed the Vikes in the last 14 minutes as they led by as much as 22 points (72-50) at one stage.

This was the best game of the season for the Oles (who are now 2-3, over-all), according to their coach, Bob Gelle. Grover and his mates passed sharply to set up shots, fired at a 52.2 percent clip (36 of 69) from the floor and blunted most of the Vikes' point-producing weapons with aggressive defending.

Shows Respect for AFL 'Papa Bear' Says Bays Will Win Close Game

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Football League generally and the Kansas City Chiefs particularly got a surprising boost Friday from the patriarch of the National Football League, owner coach George Halas of the Chicago Bears.

Halas, 72, one of the NFL's founding fathers in 1920, predicted victory, "but closer than anyone else seems to believe," by the NFL champion Green Bay Packers over the AFL title-bearing Chiefs in their Super Bowl game Jan. 15.

Few NFL leaders held the AFL with greater scorn than Halas when the rival AFL — now merged with the NFL — began operation in 1960.

But Papa Bear, a man with strong opinions in the pro game he helped lead through impetuous years, now concedes that the seven-year-old AFL has remedied its most glaring early weakness, defensive play.

Tightened Up!

Whatever difference existed between the two leagues was defense," said Halas. "This difference has tightened up. I watched, on TV, Kansas City defeat Buffalo for the AFL title and I simply don't believe that disparity between the defenses exists any longer.

"That league (AFL) has emphasized defense in the last few years. It showed in that title game at Buffalo."

"The single, significant reason on the Green Bay-Kansas City playoff at Los Angeles is going to be much closer than many suit men gave sworn testimony to expect is that the Chiefs came up with their tightest defenses held earlier this week by Minter's attorney."

Super Bowl Like World Series

Baseball Was First Love for Converted Grid Star Tom Brown

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Victory-flushed Tom Brown of the Green Bay Packers didn't know what to say at first as reporters sought him out in the dressing room at Dallas.

His clutch interception in the final seconds Jan. 1 had preserved the Packers' 34-27 win over the Cowboys and given them the National Football League championship.

What was he thinking right after the catch?

"I was thinking about York, Pennsylvania," he said finally. "I was thinking that's a long way from York, Pennsylvania."

Tom Brown plays safety for the Packers. He once played first base for the Washington Senators. He opened the season there in 1963 as a highly touted rookie before being shipped to York because of light hitting. He returned to the majors briefly after that only to be sent back to the White Roses.

Shattered Dreams

He quit baseball for good in 1964 to join the Packers — leaving behind him in York shattered dreams and a .210 batting average.

Baseball was his first love. "You grow up with it," Brown said. "You use football as a means of getting a scholarship and an education."

Football got Brown into the University of Maryland. Baseball got him to the Senators — his team as a child.

Opening day 1963 was a highlight of his life, ranking with two NFL titles and his steal against Dallas. "The President was there and everyone was there," Brown said. "As a boy I used to go to the game on opening day. It was a big thing. The whole spotlight of the country is on Washington that day."

The ballyhooed Brown vanished quickly from the spotlight. A natural right-handed hitter, he had taken to switch hitting. The result was he couldn't hit from either the left or right side.

Decision Tougher

"In the last three weeks at York, I decided to quit hitting left-handed and I picked up four or five home runs. It made the decision to quit baseball a little tougher for me," Brown said.

But Brown was still down on himself when he reported to the Packers. "I had lost a lot of confidence in myself in baseball," he said. "I know I wasn't that bad a hitter and even my fielding was going bad. When I came up to the Packers, I couldn't catch a thing on offense. I just looked oh so miserable. My hands were so bad and my legs were not in very good shape either. It was a very frustrating time."

But the Packers stayed with Brown, shifting him to the defensive backfield. He became a fixture there in 1965.

Long Way From York

"It was a long way from York and playing before 200 and 300 people," Brown said.

On Jan. 15, he will be playing for the world championship in the Super Bowl against the Kansas City Chiefs of the American Football League.

"I would guess you can't get any bigger in professional football than to play in the first Super Bowl game," said Brown. "It's a wonderful thing as far as something you can be proud of and something you can always live with and it makes a good story."

Will it be like playing in a World Series?

"I haven't thought of it in that light," Brown replied. "There were so many other things to win before we started thinking about this game. But as far as a World Series is concerned, you could specify it as a World Series."

TWO RIVERS — Exploding for 30 points in the third quarter, the Neenah Rockets shot past Two Rivers, 79-61, in a Mid-Eastern Conference contest here Friday night.

Breeding to their seventh straight victory, the Rockets added the fifth notch to their perfect league record. Two Rivers, hurt by the absence of two starters suspended for training violations, is now 1-5 in conference play.

The Purple Raiders claimed a 10-8 advantage in the early minutes of play, but Neenah poured in eight straight points to take a lead it never relinquished. The Rockets led by four, 16-12, after the first period and increased the margin to 13 at intermission, carrying a 39-20 lead into the dressing room.

If Two Rivers laid any halftime plans for stopping the Neenah offense in the third quarter the Rockets weren't aware of them as one of the state's top-ranked teams unleashed a telling offensive barrage.

Hit 14 of 24

With Dan Jankowski, Al Ross and Larry Handler showing the way, Neenah ripped the nets on 14 of 24 attempts from the field and added a pair of charities to build a comfortable 26-point lead.

The Rockets substituted freely in the final period as the hosts scored 24 markers to chip eight points off the lead.

Handler, who along with Jankowski controlled the night's rebounding, topped all scorers with 17 points. Jankowski tallied 16 and Gary Losse, who fouled out early in the third period, had 12. Lee Mueller paced Two Rivers with 13.

Neenah hit on 33 of 86 field goal attempts and 13 of 25 shots from the foul line.

TV Blackout in Los Angeles Area Gets Judge's OK

LOS ANGELES (AP)—U.S. District Judge William Grey denied an injunction Friday in a suit seeking to block a television blackout in the Greater Los Angeles area of the Super Bowl game between the champions of the National and American Football Leagues Jan. 15.

Green Bay of the NFL and Kansas City of the AFL are in the bowl.

The judge said he felt the local television ban of the otherwise nationally telecast game by the two leagues and the NBC and CBS networks was discriminatory against residents in Southern California.

Judge Grey, however, said he must deny the injunction suit by Alan Minter, a businessman, on legal grounds.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle and others involved in the suit gave sworn testimony opposing the case in private sessions held earlier this week by Minter's attorney.

Johnny Keane Dies At 55 in Houston

Heart Attack Claims Manager Of 1964 Champion Cardinals

By WILL GRIMSLEY

HOUSTON (AP) — Johnny Keane, the gentlemanly little manager who suffered through one of baseball's most tragic success stories in reverse, is dead.

A massive heart attack at his home here Friday night claimed the mild, cigar-chomping perfectionist who won the world championship with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1964, only to be fired 18 months later by the New York Yankees when the American League club plunged to the cellar.

He was 55. He had spent more

Outwardly, Keane took the action philosophically. "I left the Yankees with all good feelings," he said. "It is one of baseball's most tragic when they see fit."

Then, a team man to the end, he added: "If they can get them (the Yankees) hitting, that is all there will be to it. The pitching wasn't bad. We were just not hitting."

"All You Can Do"

"Things like this happen in baseball," he said at the time. "You do your best, and that's all you can do."

The lean, soft-spoken ex-manager had none of the brash color of Casey Stengel, the militant driving force of Houk or the warmth of Berra.

Many said that the reason he failed with the Yankees was that he wasn't hard enough on the stars, such as Mantle and Maris.

Keane spent 39 years in the game, but he never played in the majors.

Born Nov. 3, 1911, in St. Louis he broke into the Cardinal organization as shortstop with Globe of the Arizona State League in 1929 after reportedly considering a career in the priesthood.

After his 1964 victory, he was named Manager of the Year. "I waited 35 years for this," he said. "I never thought a man could be so happy."

Many Prep Cage Games Postponed

The majority of Friday night high school basketball games involving Fox Cities area teams were postponed because of inclement weather.

Games for all three high schools in Appleton have been re-scheduled for tonight. Appleton High will be at Sheboygan North. Fox Valley Lutheran will be at Milwaukee Lutheran and Xavier will play host to Marshfield Columbus.

Only one Mid-Eastern Conference game was played — Neenah at Two Rivers. The Shawano-at-Menasha game has been re-scheduled for tonight at Shawano (the Menasha gym will be used by the St. Mary care team). The Clintonville-at-Kaukauna game has been re-set for Monday night, while the New London-at-Kimberly test is now set for Wednesday.

The entire Little Nine Conference schedule was postponed last night. The Shiocton-at-Brillion game is the only one due to be made up tonight.

Other postponements included two Central Wisconsin Conference games and the Northeastern Wisconsin contests involving Seymour and Bonduel.

NFL, AFL Player Groups Propose All-Star Game

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — The players associations of the National Football League and the American Football League said Friday that they are jointly proposing to the owners of both leagues an all-star football game between the outstanding players of each league.

The details will be submitted by each association through their respective leagues within the next 60 days.

It was proposed that the game be held annually, to begin in January, 1968. It is planned that the proceeds be used in part for charity and in part for the players' pension plans.

Officials of the two associations met here Friday.

Keane's widow, a daughter, Mrs. Pat Masterson, and two grandsons, all of Houston, survive. Services will be held here Monday or Tuesday.

Keane was the central figure in one of the game's most bizarre managerial shifts.

In 1963, Keane's Cardinals were barely beaten out for the National League pennant by the Los Angeles Dodgers after a streak of 19 victories in 20 games.

The next year reports persisted that both Keane and the St. Louis general manager, Devine, were headed for discard. In mid-season the Cards fired Devine and hired Bob Howsam. Leo Durocher was slated to replace Keane.

Rallies The Cards

However, Keane rallied his Cardinals and won the pennant on the final day of the season after the dramatic collapse of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Then the Cardinals won the World Series from the New York Yankees, four games to three.

Keane was in a position to get almost anything he demanded in a contract renewal with the Cardinals. Instead, he quit and — in a startling turn — took over as manager of the Yankees, replacing the ousted Yogi Berra.

With Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris suffering injury and the team generally riddled with misfortune, Keane was able to get the Yankees only as high as sixth in 1965.

Things went from bad to worse in 1966, and the team plummeted to 10th place. It was then, apparently in the direction of the controlling Columbia Broadcasting System, that Keane was summarily fired in May and replaced by General Manager Ralph Houk.

Allie Sherman Says Griese, Spurrier Were Both Superb

HONOLULU (AP)—“They couldn’t stop us, and we couldn’t stop them. But we held on long enough to win.” That was Coach Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue’s appraisal of the annual squeaker game in the annual Hula Bowl in Honolulu, won this time by the North over the South, 28-27.

St. Olaf ‘5’ Stops Vikes

Alexander gym in an effort to square its MC record, played one of its lesser games last night. The Vikings (now 3-2, over-all) hit on 24 of 63 floor shots (38.1 per cent), weren’t too imposing under the boards and permitted the Oles a number of uncontested field goals.

Grover sank six first-half baskets and pumped in his first five second-half attempts en route to a 13-goal performance. He made all four of his free throw attempts. None of his teammates missed a gift shot, either for that matter. He was abetted by Mike Jacquat’s 13 points, Paul Graber’s 12 and Rick Maursetter’s 11.

Sophomore Bob Townsend stood out for Lawrence, with 20 points. He tossed in seven of 11 floor shots and added six free throws. Lawrence’s “big 3” in the point table — Dick Schultz, Brian Bock and Steve Simon — all reached double figures but were held below their season averages by St. Olaf’s man-to-man defense. Schultz scored 12 points. Bock 11 and Simon 10.

The Vikes fell behind, 12-6, in the early going but surged back to a 15-14 lead on Bock’s free throw — with 11 minutes left in the first half. Lawrence stayed ahead by small margins for the next eight minutes.

Oles Tie Score A 3-point play by Schultz increased a 28-27 lead. But, the Oles came back to tie it, 31-31, on Grover’s free throw — with 2:50 left in the half. Schultz sank a free toss, with 2:40 remaining, to give Lawrence its last lead. Graber hit a 2-pointer, with 1:40 left in the half, and the Oles were ahead to stay.

If fact, St. Olaf was to fire in nine straight points in a 1:19 segment to romp ahead, 40-32. The Vikes never quite recovered from this outburst, which was aided by brief employment of a full-court press.

St. Olaf led by six (40-34) at halftime. Early in the second stanza, the Vikes came without three points (42-39), but the hustling invaders kept widening the gap after that. In one stretch, they outscored Lawrence 20 to 6.

Landry Selects Andrie and Clark For Pro Bowl Tilt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Head Coach Tom Landry, who will guide the East against the West in the National Football League’s Pro Bowl game here Jan. 22, announced his bonus block of Wisconsin cheese has choice of two players today.

He selected George Andrie, the rugged defensive end from his own Dallas Cowboys, and place kicker Mike Clark of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Thirty-three other players previously were picked by vote of the NFL coaches.

George Allen of the Los Angeles Rams will coach the West in the 17th annual game.

Florida staged a pitching battle while little Charlie Brown of Missouri, who ground out 111 yards for the South, won back-of-the-game honors.

Dave Williams of Washington, who caught two Griese passes for touchdowns, within 55 seconds in the fourth quarter, was lineman of the game.

It was the third straight year that one or two points separated the teams of outstanding college football players, thanks to the catch-up rule that the trailing team receives after a score.

“I like the rule,” Mollenkopf

“It gives the fans a great game, and a chance to see all these fine players in action.” “I think it makes the game a circus,” said disgruntled Jack Clancey, Michigan end, who made a series of spectacular catches in the North’s first half drive.

“Got Too Tired” “The same units were facing each other too much, and they got too tired,” Clancey said. “That’s the way you get injuries.”

Both Mollenkopf and South Coach John Ralston of Stanford said that the South had no choice but to go for the victory after the South scored its last touchdown to come within one point.

“You try for two in a situation like that,” Ralston said. “You have to. Who wants to see a tie of an exhibition game?”

“That’s the spot to try for two,” Mollenkopf agreed. The game, which was on the powderpuff side in the first half, developed into a real hitting match in the second, and the 23-500 fans who filled Honolulu Stadium enjoyed it.

It was a lovely Hawaiian night for football, with the temperature about 75. Some of the players suffered from sunburn and sore surfing muscles.

“I’ll never go surfing again before a game,” Dave Rowe, 6-foot 7 Penn State tackle said, sweat dripping from his pink

At least a dozen pro scouts and coaches were on hand for the game, looking over the material that will be available in the upcoming draft.

“I felt both quarterbacks were superb,” said Coach Allie Sherman of the New York Giants.

The second greatest factor in the game was the defense against the FRVC’s highest scorer, Dick Diener. Diener, who entered the game with a 27.8-point per game average, team, officially fired Gilmer was held to nine markers, with Friday. Gilmer had one year only one in the entire second half.

The Indians entered the half-time intermission trailing, 30-26, but with their combinations of defense and hot shooting, drove to a 25-point advantage (71-46) with 2:05 remaining to play. # Bays Wind Up Home Drills Packers’ Aldridge to Face Pros’ Biggest Offensive Lineman

GREEN BAY — Lionel Aldridge faces the biggest offensive lineman in pro football in the Super Bowl.

That would be Jim Tyrer, the Chiefs’ left tackle, who stands 6-6 and weighs 295 pounds. A one-time star at Ohio State, Tyrer is a 6-year veteran of Kansas City.

At 6-4 and 245, Aldridge will be giving away two inches and 50 pounds.

How do you combat an animal of this size?

“I’ve been watching him closely in the films and I’m sure I can’t take him head on because he’s bigger and taller,” Aldridge said.

Big Lionel was about to say “stronger, too” but corrected this to “I don’t know how strong he is. We’ll have to wait and see about that.”

The pictures revealed that Tyrer, in Lionel’s opinion, looks good. He has good techniques, but he might have to give away something in quickness and speed and agility because of his size.

Aldridge added “It will be interesting and I’m anxious to test him.”

Aldridge worked against the Cowboys’ 7-year veteran, Jim Boeke, in the championship game with good success. Boeke also is bigger than Aldridge, going 6-5, 265.

Boeke drew the crucial offside penalty on the Packers’ 1-yard line, forcing the Cowboys to pass, and he admitted later that “there was no question about it. I just jumped too soon.”

Aldridge said he saw Boeke jump “out of the corner of my eye. We (defensive linemen) don’t look directly at our opponent. We keep our eyes on the ball.”

The Pack’s defensive right end said “I’m in the best shape I’ve been all season . . . but I have to watch it.”

He referred to “the lack of playing” due to the two weeks between each of two championship games, explaining:

“You can get out of shape a lot quicker than you can get into shape so you have to be careful what you eat. I’ve been watching my calories and cutting down quite a bit.”

Incidentally, Tyrer has been selected on the All-AFL team for the fourth straight year. He had his best season in 1965 and scouts feel he was even better in ‘66. Tyrer is the Chiefs’ player representative and the treasurer of the Players’ Assn.

Kickoff time is 2 p.m. (EST) for the Playoff Bowl game which will be televised by CBS.

Said Kennedy: “I can’t guarantee they’ll approve my recommendations because so many of our clubs are located in the East, and all of the owners aren’t aware of San Diego’s remarkable growth.”

Some of the proposals are changes, other replacements. James Ericke, assistant superintendent explained today. "If adopted they will become a part of the 1967-68 school programming provided there is sufficient enrollment and is in line with budgetary considerations."

At Neenah High School the subjects proposed for deletion are: General Mathematics I, General Mathematics II and Record Keeping.

One subject, general business, should be dropped from the junior high school curriculum, according to the recommendations made in committee Dec. 20 by Fricke and Alvin Long, principal of the high school.

Another item on Monday's agenda concerns the changing vocational picture in the Neenah School District. Two additional board members will be proposed for addition to the Neenah Vocational and Adult School Board.

Since July 5, 1966, when the vocational district became co-terminus with the joint school district, high school age boys and girls and adults living in the towns of Neenah, Menasha, Clayton and Vinland have been eligible to attend the vocational school without paying tuition.

State Jurists Leave Door Open for Campaign Rules; Establish Study Committee

BY PETER GENESSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
OSHKOSH — State jurists declined to back a fair practices pledge for judicial elections proposed by the state bar but left the door open for some type of campaign rules at the closing session of the Third Annual Wisconsin Judicial Conference here Friday.

A resolution calling for more study of the pledge by a special seven-man committee passed unanimously after Milwaukee Circuit Judge William Moser pointed out his objections to the pledge prepared by the standing State Bar Committee on Judicial Elections.

Moser objected to one point which prohibited judges from appearing before any political, economic, religious or ethnic groups during a campaign. He said such a restriction would bar him from speaking out or answering questions at meetings of his own religious group during an election period.

Free Speech
"I don't think it's fair to hamstring judges," he said. "We are entitled to free speech like the rest of the citizens."

However, Judge Moser said he supported the report from the state bar committee for the most part. The seven-man committee to consider Judge Moser's proposals along with the State Bar report will be comprised of a justice of the supreme court as chairman and three members appointed by both the chairman of the Board of Circuit Judges and the chairman of the Board of County Judges.

The committee will report its findings at the next Wisconsin Judicial Conference in January, 1968.

The State Bar had sought the Board of a union certification hearing to be held at the courthouse Jan. 11 on petition of Teamsters Local 563, which has claimed several employees have been organized and want union representation.

Strong Grip
Circuit Judge Arnold Cane, Winnebago County, expressed doubt that the system of appointing judges in Wisconsin would ever be accepted by the electorate. He said the residents of the state strongly hold their right to vote and wouldn't be willing to part with their voting power in a judicial election.

Earlier in the week, the Board of County Judges and Board of Circuit Judges, meeting separately, rejected a proposed code of judicial ethics which a supreme court-appointed committee had drawn.

The point in the 17 items set by the committee which drew the most objections to the code was a vaguely-worded phrase which stated a judge "shall not be a member of nor participate in the affairs of any group whose activities or whose interests are inconsistent with the impartial exercise of his duties."

Lack Sanctions
Both groups turned down the code in its present form but added that they did not disapprove of a judicial code as such. The main objection was that the one presented was vague, indefinite and lacked sanctions in its enforcement.

A movement toward a single judicial system, consolidating the county and circuit judges, received some support during the sessions.

Most of the judges, including many of the circuit judges who have previously blocked such a move, favored eliminating the two separate courts. Much of the work load is similar and often overlaps, but the biggest difference between county and circuit judges is salary. A circuit judge receives $20,000 a year, while county judges are paid $17,500. However, some counties supplement these salaries.

Resolutions passed during the general session Friday included one which approved expenses from the Supreme Court budget to send judges to the National Conference of State Trial Judges which meets each summer. The chief justice of the Supreme Court, with consent from a majority of the court, will select from the recently elected or appointed judges, a number to attend the sessions in Reno, Nevada.

Jurors Appreciated
Another resolution, unanimously approved, called for certificates of appreciation for jurors upon completion of their terms of service.

The annual state judicial conference generally deals with procedural matters facing the judges. Seminar sessions included topics such as post-conviction remedies, writs of habeas corpus, hearsay rules, criminal contempt and judicial administration.

The conference chairman was Chief Justice George R. Currie. Panelists from outside the state included Justice Robert H. McWilliams, Supreme Court of Colorado; Judge David Zenoff, Supreme Court of Nevada, and Judge Kenneth Chantry, Superior Court of Los Angeles.

Storm's Aftermath

Left in the wake of Friday's storm front were winter scenery, happy children and irked motorists. The W. # Three Die in Storm; Roads Treacherous

Kaukauna Area Gets 304 New Phones in 1966

Utility Company Completes $180,000 Improvement Project

KAUKAUNA — The Kaukauna exchange of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. installed 304 new phones during the past year, a gain of 5.4 per cent, according to the annual report released by Clifford M. Flaherty, manager.

This brings the total number of phones in the city to 5,934. A total of 195 phones were added at the Little Chute exchange to bring the total to 5,015 and 45 were added at Wrightstown, for a total of 733. The Little Chute exchange includes phones in Kimberly and Combined Locks served through the plant at Little Chute.

During the year, a $180,000 service improvement program for rural Kaukauna customers was completed.

At Little Chute additional switching equipment, valued at $74,000, was installed to provide the exchange with an additional 400 subscriber lines. Also installed was a traffic usage recorder which measures equipment usage for engineering and administrative purposes.

"This recorder gives us economical and accurate data for more precise engineering of future equipment additions," said Flaherty.

Also during the past year, Kaukauna and Little Chute were among several exchanges in the state to be provided with Tel-A-Visit service. This permits customers to make an unlimited number of direct dialed long distance calls anywhere in the state, during specified periods of the day, at a flat monthly rate. The service is available to one-party residence customers in areas which have automatic identification equipment.

Much Colder Temperatures, More Snow Predicted to Add To 7-Inch Accumulation in Valley

Highways throughout the Fox Valley area were treacherous today in the wake of a severe storm that left at least three persons dead, caused several auto accidents and resulted in about seven inches of snow.

On the heels of the storm that caused havoc Friday comes a prediction of more snow, with accumulations expected to total about two inches by midnight, and much colder temperatures.

Precipitation probabilities, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau, were 90 per cent today, 40 per cent tonight and 20 per cent on Sunday.

Three deaths, directly connected with the storm, were reported in the Valley area. Charles Bender, 82, 2324 N. Division St., Appleton, died at about 3 p.m. in the kitchen of a neighbor shortly after he had finished shoveling a 132-foot long path on a sidewalk. Two New London residents also were storm victims: one of them, Mrs. Frank I. Davis, 78, 119 E. South River St., died about 1:30 p.m. after she had finished sweeping snow at her home. The other, Francis LeBeau, 62, 1313 Wyman St., died at 4 p.m., apparently after he became exhausted from chopping an ice fishing hole on the Wolf River.

Dangerous Driving

The Wisconsin Highway Patrol reported extremely dangerous driving conditions in the Fox Valley area. On U.S. 41, the patrol reported, the driving lanes have "frequent slippery spots and the passing lanes are extremely hazardous."

Another snow storm had moved into western Wisconsin this morning and was headed toward the Valley where snow began falling at mid-morning and was expected to continue until about midnight.

In the northern and northwestern portions of the state, all main highways were snow-covered and slippery. At mid-morning more snow was falling, being pushed by high winds. Generally, the State Patrol reported, only one lane of traffic was open and traffic was moving very slowly.

Roads Blocked

In the central area of the state, around Stevens Point, snow was falling and drifting and freezing rain, also coming down in areas, was adding to extremely hazardous driving conditions. The patrol reported snow was falling in Shawano and Waupaca counties. Side roads were blocked in Shawano County.

In other areas of the state freezing mist made roads slippery in eastern Wisconsin, near Lake Michigan, and roads were snow-packed and in fair driving condition in the Milwaukee-Racine-Kenosha area. On the Interstate Highway system, I-94 was snow-packed and slippery and I-90 from Madison to the Illinois state line was in good driving condition.

The State Patrol advised motorists to stay off Wisconsin highways unless they had to use them for emergencies.

Storm Accidents

Accidents were reported throughout the Valley, which were directly attributed to the storm. In Appleton, there were nine traffic accidents, two with injuries; in Neenah, there were four accidents, including a car-train mishap in which three people were hurt, and there were five storm-connected accidents in Menasha. Several semi-trailer trucks and cars were reported off U.S. 41 Friday during the height of the snow storm. Eleven accidents were reported on Outagamie County roads.

A total of seven semi-trailer trucks jackknifed and skidded off highways in District 3 Friday and early today, the Wisconsin State Patrol reported at its Fond du Lac headquarters.

Most of the accidents were on U.S. 41. One was a half mile north of the Butte des Morts bridge and the other two miles south of the bridge.

The state patrol commander said the trucks don't seem to slow down, regardless of weather.

The storm left a total accumulation of 12 inches of snow on the ground in Appleton.

Bender died in the kitchen of Walter Heiss, 2325 N. Clark St., according to Outagamie County Coroner Bernard Kemps. He said Bender sat down on a chair in Heiss' kitchen and passed out. He was given oxygen by the Appleton Fire Department rescue squad. Kemps said Bender died of a heart attack.

Snow removal crews were out most of the night throughout the Fox Valley clearing roads and sanding and salting on slippery stretches of streets and highways.

The official forecast called for snow continuing, but gradually diminishing today over north and west-central portions of the state. One to three inches of additional snow was expected to fall in the Fox Valley area, accompanied by blowing and drifting. More snow flurries were expected tonight and there was a lesser chance of more snow Sunday. Variable cloudiness was predicted and temperatures were expected to become much colder tonight. On Sunday, the forecast was for variable cloudiness with "quite cold" temperatures. Low temperatures tonight were expected to be about zero.

The storm, which came down the eastern slope of the Rockies Friday, was pushed by winds of 40 and 50 miles an hour. Temperatures in many areas fell far below zero.

Blizzard Warnings

Blizzard or heavy-snow warnings were issued by local weather bureaus for parts of North Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Wisconsin and Michigan.

The Weather Bureau in Chicago said 4 to 8 inches of new snow could be expected in parts of the eight states.

The Duluth snowfall came in 12 hours. At Alpena and Souda, Mich., the snowfall totaled five inches in six hours. Salt Lake City got five inches.

Hazardous - driving warnings followed the heavy-snow reports and later bitter cold moved into the snow belt.

At 1 a.m., the reading at Glasgow, Mont., was -14. At Key West, Fla., it was 72, the nation's high.

Freezing rain or sleet fell over sections of southern Michigan and showers and thunderstorms raked areas southward to the Gulf.

Some Rocky Mountain passes were blocked for a time by snowslides. At Afton, Wyo., a search was under way in an area where a 40-foot deep snow slide may have covered a logging contractor.

Woman Hurt In Germany Sent Home

Third Candidate Takes Papers in Kaukauna Ward

KAUKAUNA — Norman Meinert, 507 Whitney St., became the third candidate for the Third Ward aldermanic post when he took out nomination papers this week.

Meinert, an employee of the Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co., served several terms as third ward alderman about 10 years ago.

Others seeking the position are incumbent George Simon and Kenneth Huss.

Needed for 'Reasonable Rate of Return'

Little Chute Water Rate Hike Necessary, PSC Order States

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Although a rate increase representing 25 per cent of the gross revenues of the Little Chute water utility appears high, it is needed to give the village a reasonable rate of return on an expanding rate base, the Public Service Commission said in an order approving a proposal of the village administration.

The commission said that the utility operated at a deficit during the last year; that it has had no significant increases in revenues in about four years; and that its financial position would continue to worsen because it is now planning a substantial expenditure for a new water storage tank to maintain quality service.

Probation Ordered for Youth Who Took Auto

Terry Lee Robinson, 18, 1103½ W. Lawrence St., Friday afternoon was placed on probation to the State Department of Public Welfare for two years after he pleaded guilty of taking a car without the owner's consent.

Robinson, who appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2, with his appointed attorney, was charged following investigation by Appleton police who said he took a car owned by William Lambie of Kaukauna from a parking area behind Appleton Car Wash on N. Richmond Street last month. The 1958 auto smashed into a utility pole in Menasha.

The new rates will yield a return of 5.8 per cent upon the existing rate base, or plant value, of $203,000.

But, later, when the cost of the utility improvements are added to the rate base, the rate of return will be a modest 2 per cent, it was noted.

"This indicates that the requested increase of 25 per cent in gross revenues will not provide an excessive rate of return on either rate base," the order said.

Pianist Malcolm Frager to Feature Contrasting Sonatas

Contrasting sonatas by Haydn, Schumann and Prokofieff, plus incidental pieces by Brahms and Ravel make up the program of pianist Malcolm Frager, who will appear on the Lawrence-Community Artist Series at 8 p.m. Monday in Memorial Chapel.

Frager, a leader among this country's youthful award-winning piano elite, is third among this season's major concert attractions at Lawrence. The Robert Shaw Chorale and Orchestra will close the series in April.

The sonatas vary from Haydn's late (1798) classical style to Schumann's concise, spontaneous writing, to Prokofieff's driving one-movement work written in 1917. Of the three, the Russian's score, with its great vitality and bravura, is probably most compelling, with Schumann's writing, particularly in his lyrical Andantino, the most majestic. The Prokofieff sonata, by the way of demonstrating the persistence and dedication of the great composers, is the result of a set of musical sketches its author made some 10 years before its actual composition while he was a resident at the St. Petersburg Conservatory.

Tickets for Frager's concert are on sale at the university box office in the Lawrence Music-Drama Center, 115 N. Park Ave. Box Office hours are from noon to 6 p.m. daily, except Sunday.

Woman, Girl Injured in 2 Accidents

One Hospitalized After Cars Skid on Slippery Street

An Appleton woman and a 12-year-old girl were injured in separate accidents Friday in which slippery streets were listed as a contributing factor.

Mrs. Wanda Bartol, 114 E. Brewster St., complained of a sore back and was taken to the hospital after a three-car accident in the 100 block on Pacific Street at 2:25 p.m.

According to police, Harlan M. Halverson, 51, 911 E. North St., was backing his car from a private driveway when it struck the Bartol car. The Bartoli car, in turn, slid across the roadway and struck a parked car owned by Melvin O. Wegner, 1524 Spring St.

Pattie Glassman, 12, suffered a pump on the head when the car driven by her father, William A. Glassman, 49, 206 W. Seymour, attempted to turn into a private driveway and was struck from behind by a car operated by Richard L. Kopelke, 26, 1712 S. Bouten, police said.

Glassman said he was attempting to make a right turn into the driveway when the accident occurred. Kopelke said he momentarily looked down to shut off his windshield wipers when the accident occurred.

Police Outnumbered by 1,000 Students

WSU Exams End in Snowball Melee

OSHKOSH — The pressure is on at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh as final exams approach, and last night the snow was wet and "packy," a bad set of circumstances.

More than 1,000 WSU-O students piled out of their dormitories early this morning into the snow, milled around for a while, then began to pack and throw.

The students rolled huge snowballs across Algoma Boulevard, a major thoroughfare which runs past the university, then pelted cars with snowballs as they slowed down. "Helpless" city police watched.

Oshkosh police Capt. Robert Foote kept an eye on the area from a parked squad car, but ordered other policemen to keep away from the area, fearing that police intervention would cause the disturbance to erupt "all over town."

2-Hour Battle

After the incident was over, almost two hours after it began, Foote issued a strong condemnation of the students' activities. "This incident was one of the most flagrant acts of disregard for the safety of others," he said on his police report. "Because of the overwhelming odds against the police, no action was taken."

"It was deemed advisable to keep this confined to one area, rather than being overrun and having it erupt all over town. This shift was completely helpless." The last sentence was underlined on the report.

City police became aware of trouble about 1 a.m. when William Burkert, assistant dean of students, advised city police that there was "trouble brewing" at Gruenhagen Hall, a men's dormitory. He said he thought college officials could handle it, but asked city police to stand by.

Milling Students

Shortly afterward a city squad car spotted 200 or 300 students milling around near the student union. Then calls from residents started to pour in. A girls' dormitory resident said a fire door had been broken with snow balls. A woman reported that her car had been pelted with snowballs, causing her to become involved in a minor accident.

It was at about 1:30 a.m. that Foote surveyed the area and ordered other policemen to stay away. Other calls from motorists and residents in the area came in.

At 1:41 a.m. Foote found Algoma Boulevard almost completely barricaded with large snow balls. The captain said the barrage of snowballs at passing cars was so intense that it might have resulted in "serious injury" to a motorist who got out of his car. He said about 300 students were involved at this point. The captain instructed the police station to call university officials and ask them to "reason with" the students. He ordered a snowplow to clear the street.

About 2:20 a.m. another 1,000

Keep Watch

Police kept the area under surveillance until about 2:45 a.m. when "it appeared as if they were settled down for the morning."

There had been a number of snowball incidents reported to the police station late Saturday night.

Calls flooded in between 6:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. from residents who said 70 or 80 students were bombarding cars on Elmwood Avenue, which also runs past the campus. A number of the callers were irate. Police investigated, but didn't see students throwing snowballs at cars.

Three residents called in later in the night to report windows broken by snowballs. Police also discovered a student who was walking down a street near the university with a fire extinguisher, which was taken from a dormitory.
